Something brand new and shining was to come.

Preparations had been long.

A period of learning and working.

A sunny day to parade before the arrival.

Creative sessions.

Sweaty and tiring practice for the making of proud athletes.

And before we knew it, the time had come . . .

our great band!

Clint

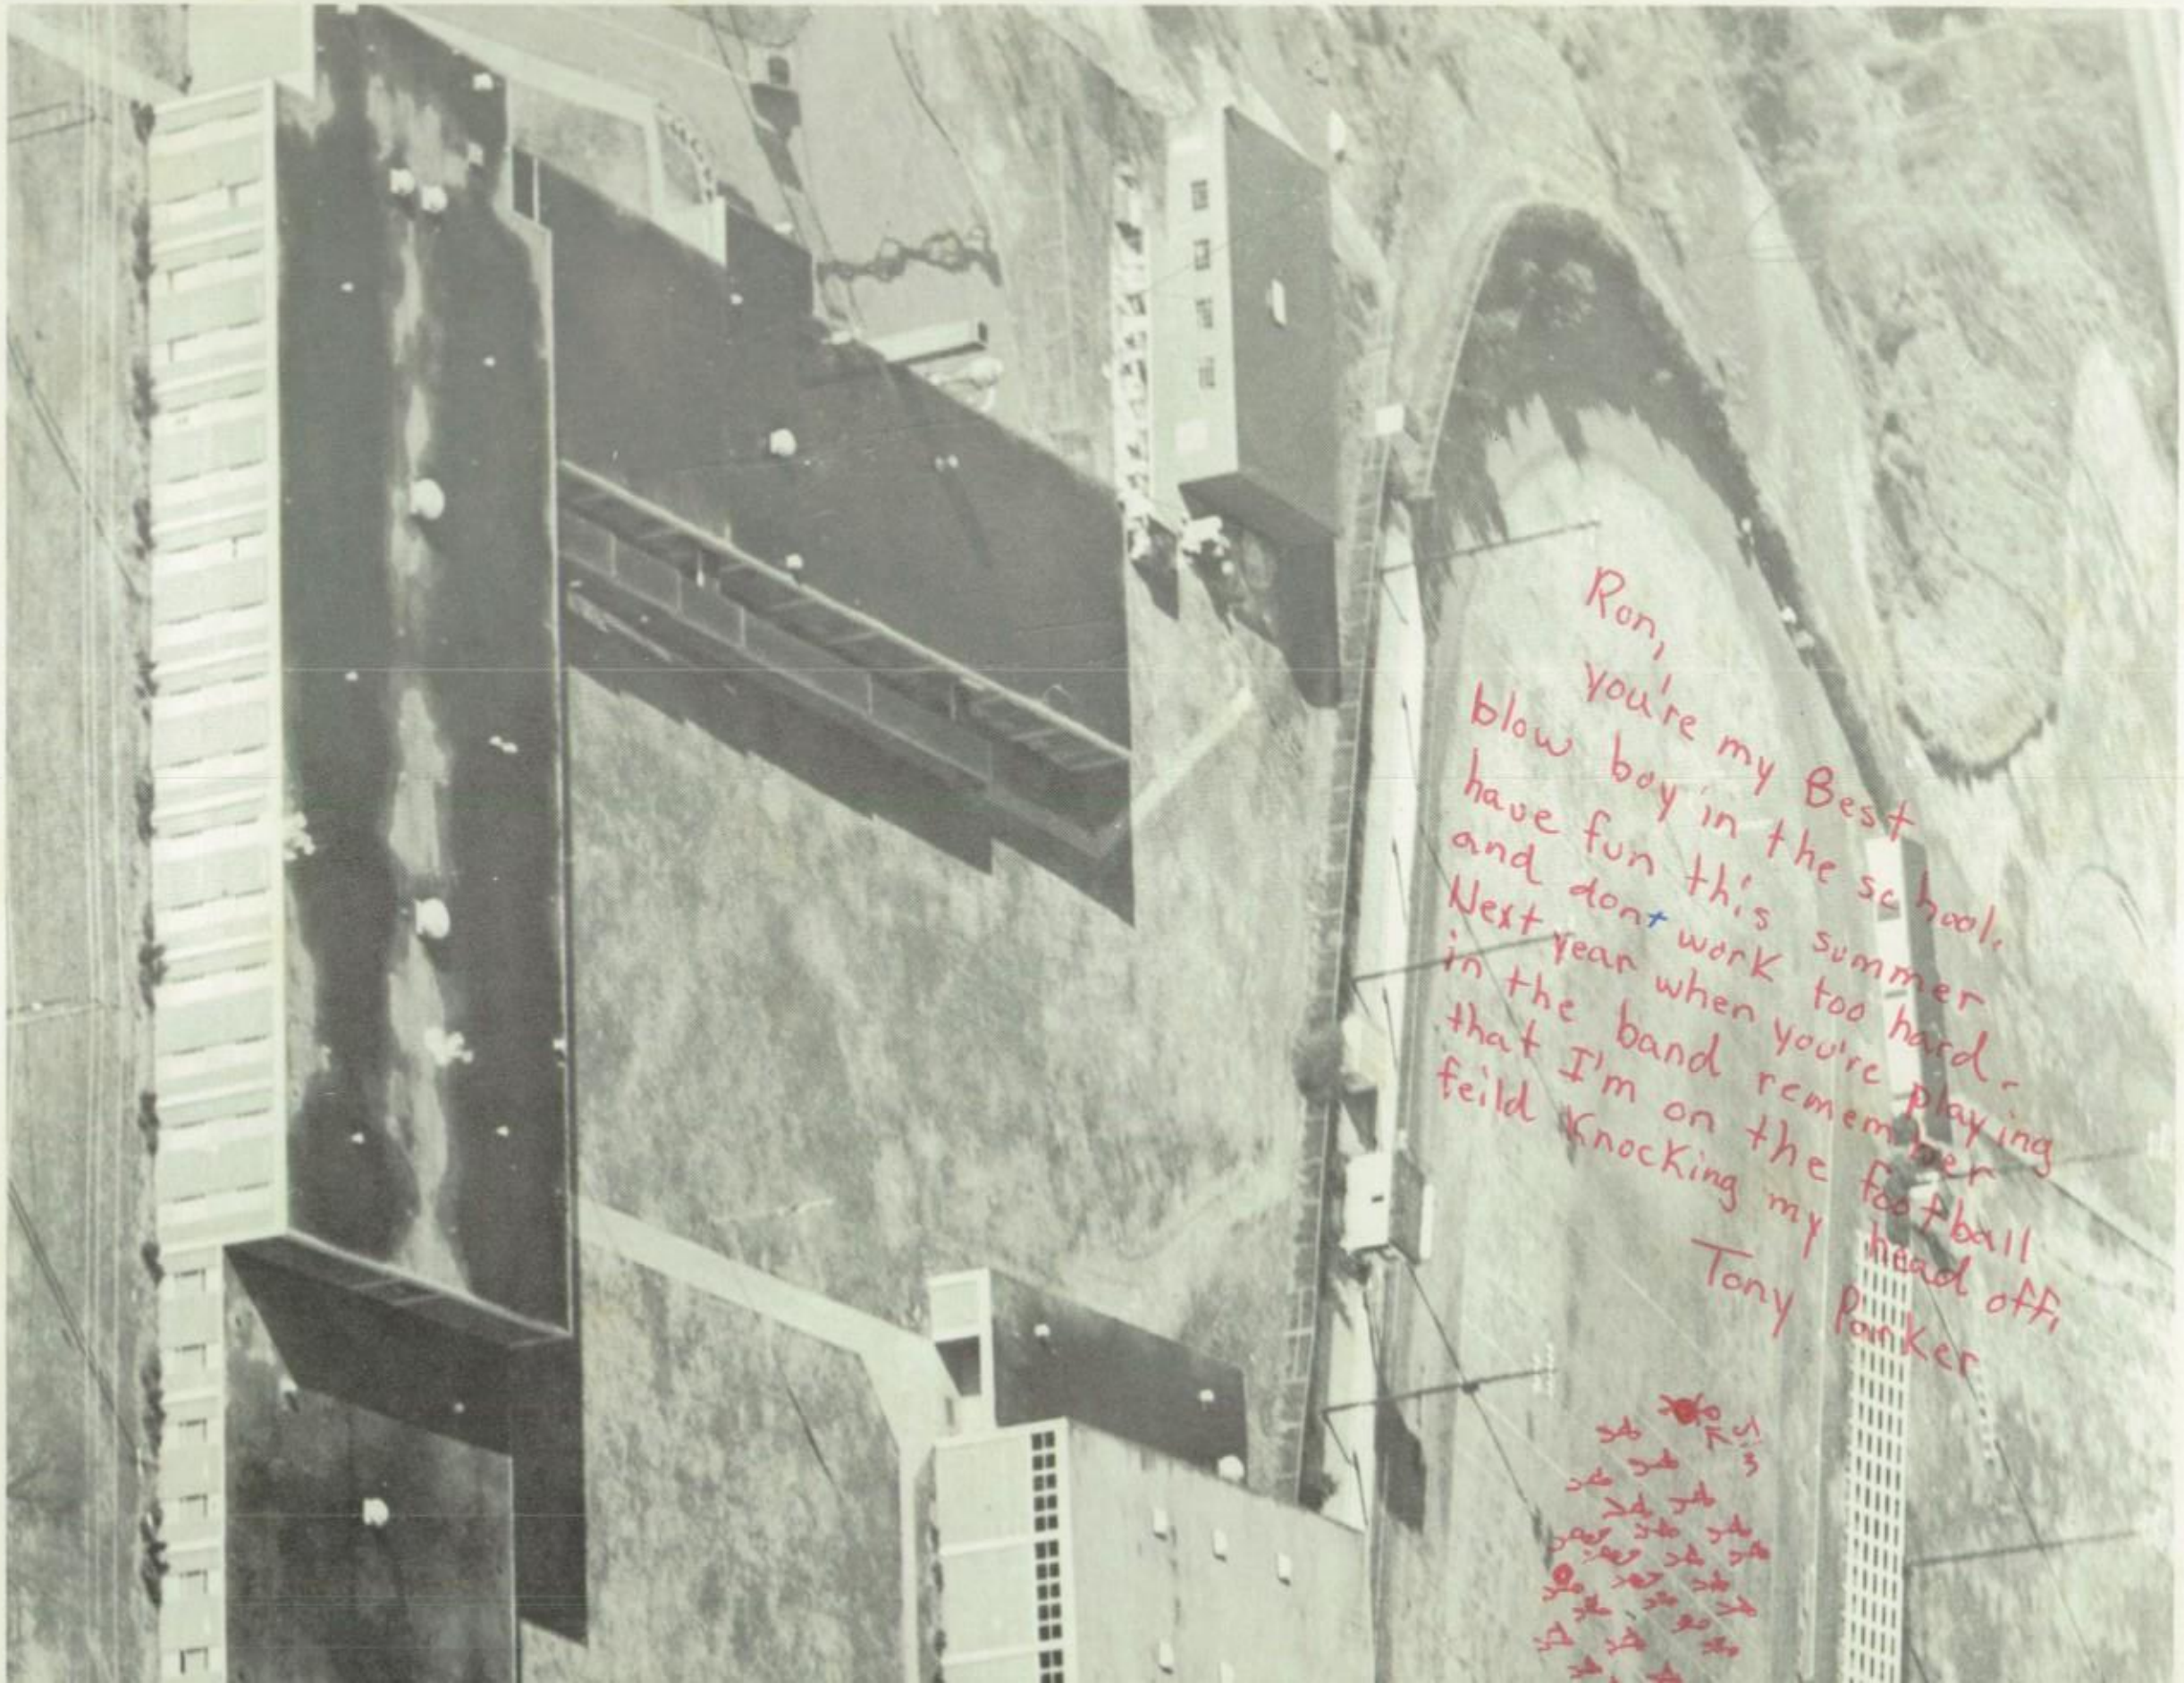
The birth of a new school year.

A time no student could forget.

Something to cherish.

A whole year opened before us.

It would be full of everything a year could possibly give.



Ron,
You're my Best
blow boy in the school,
have fun this summer
and don't work too hard.
Next year when you're playing in the band remember that I'm on the football
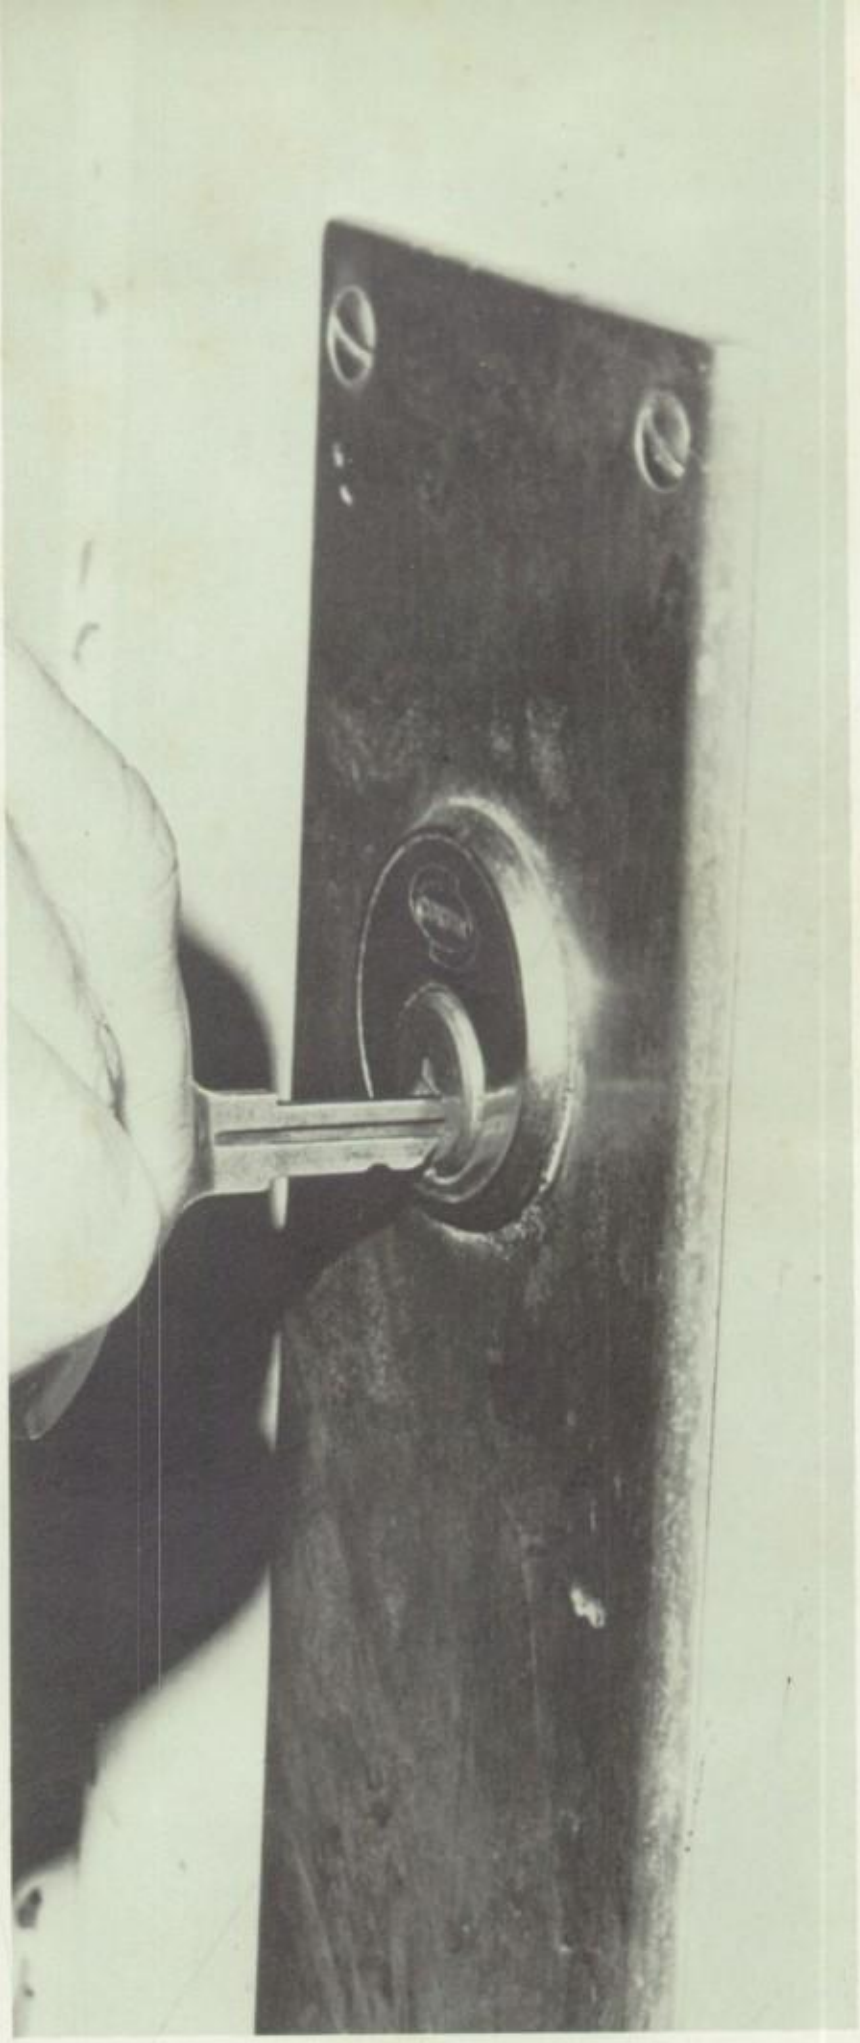
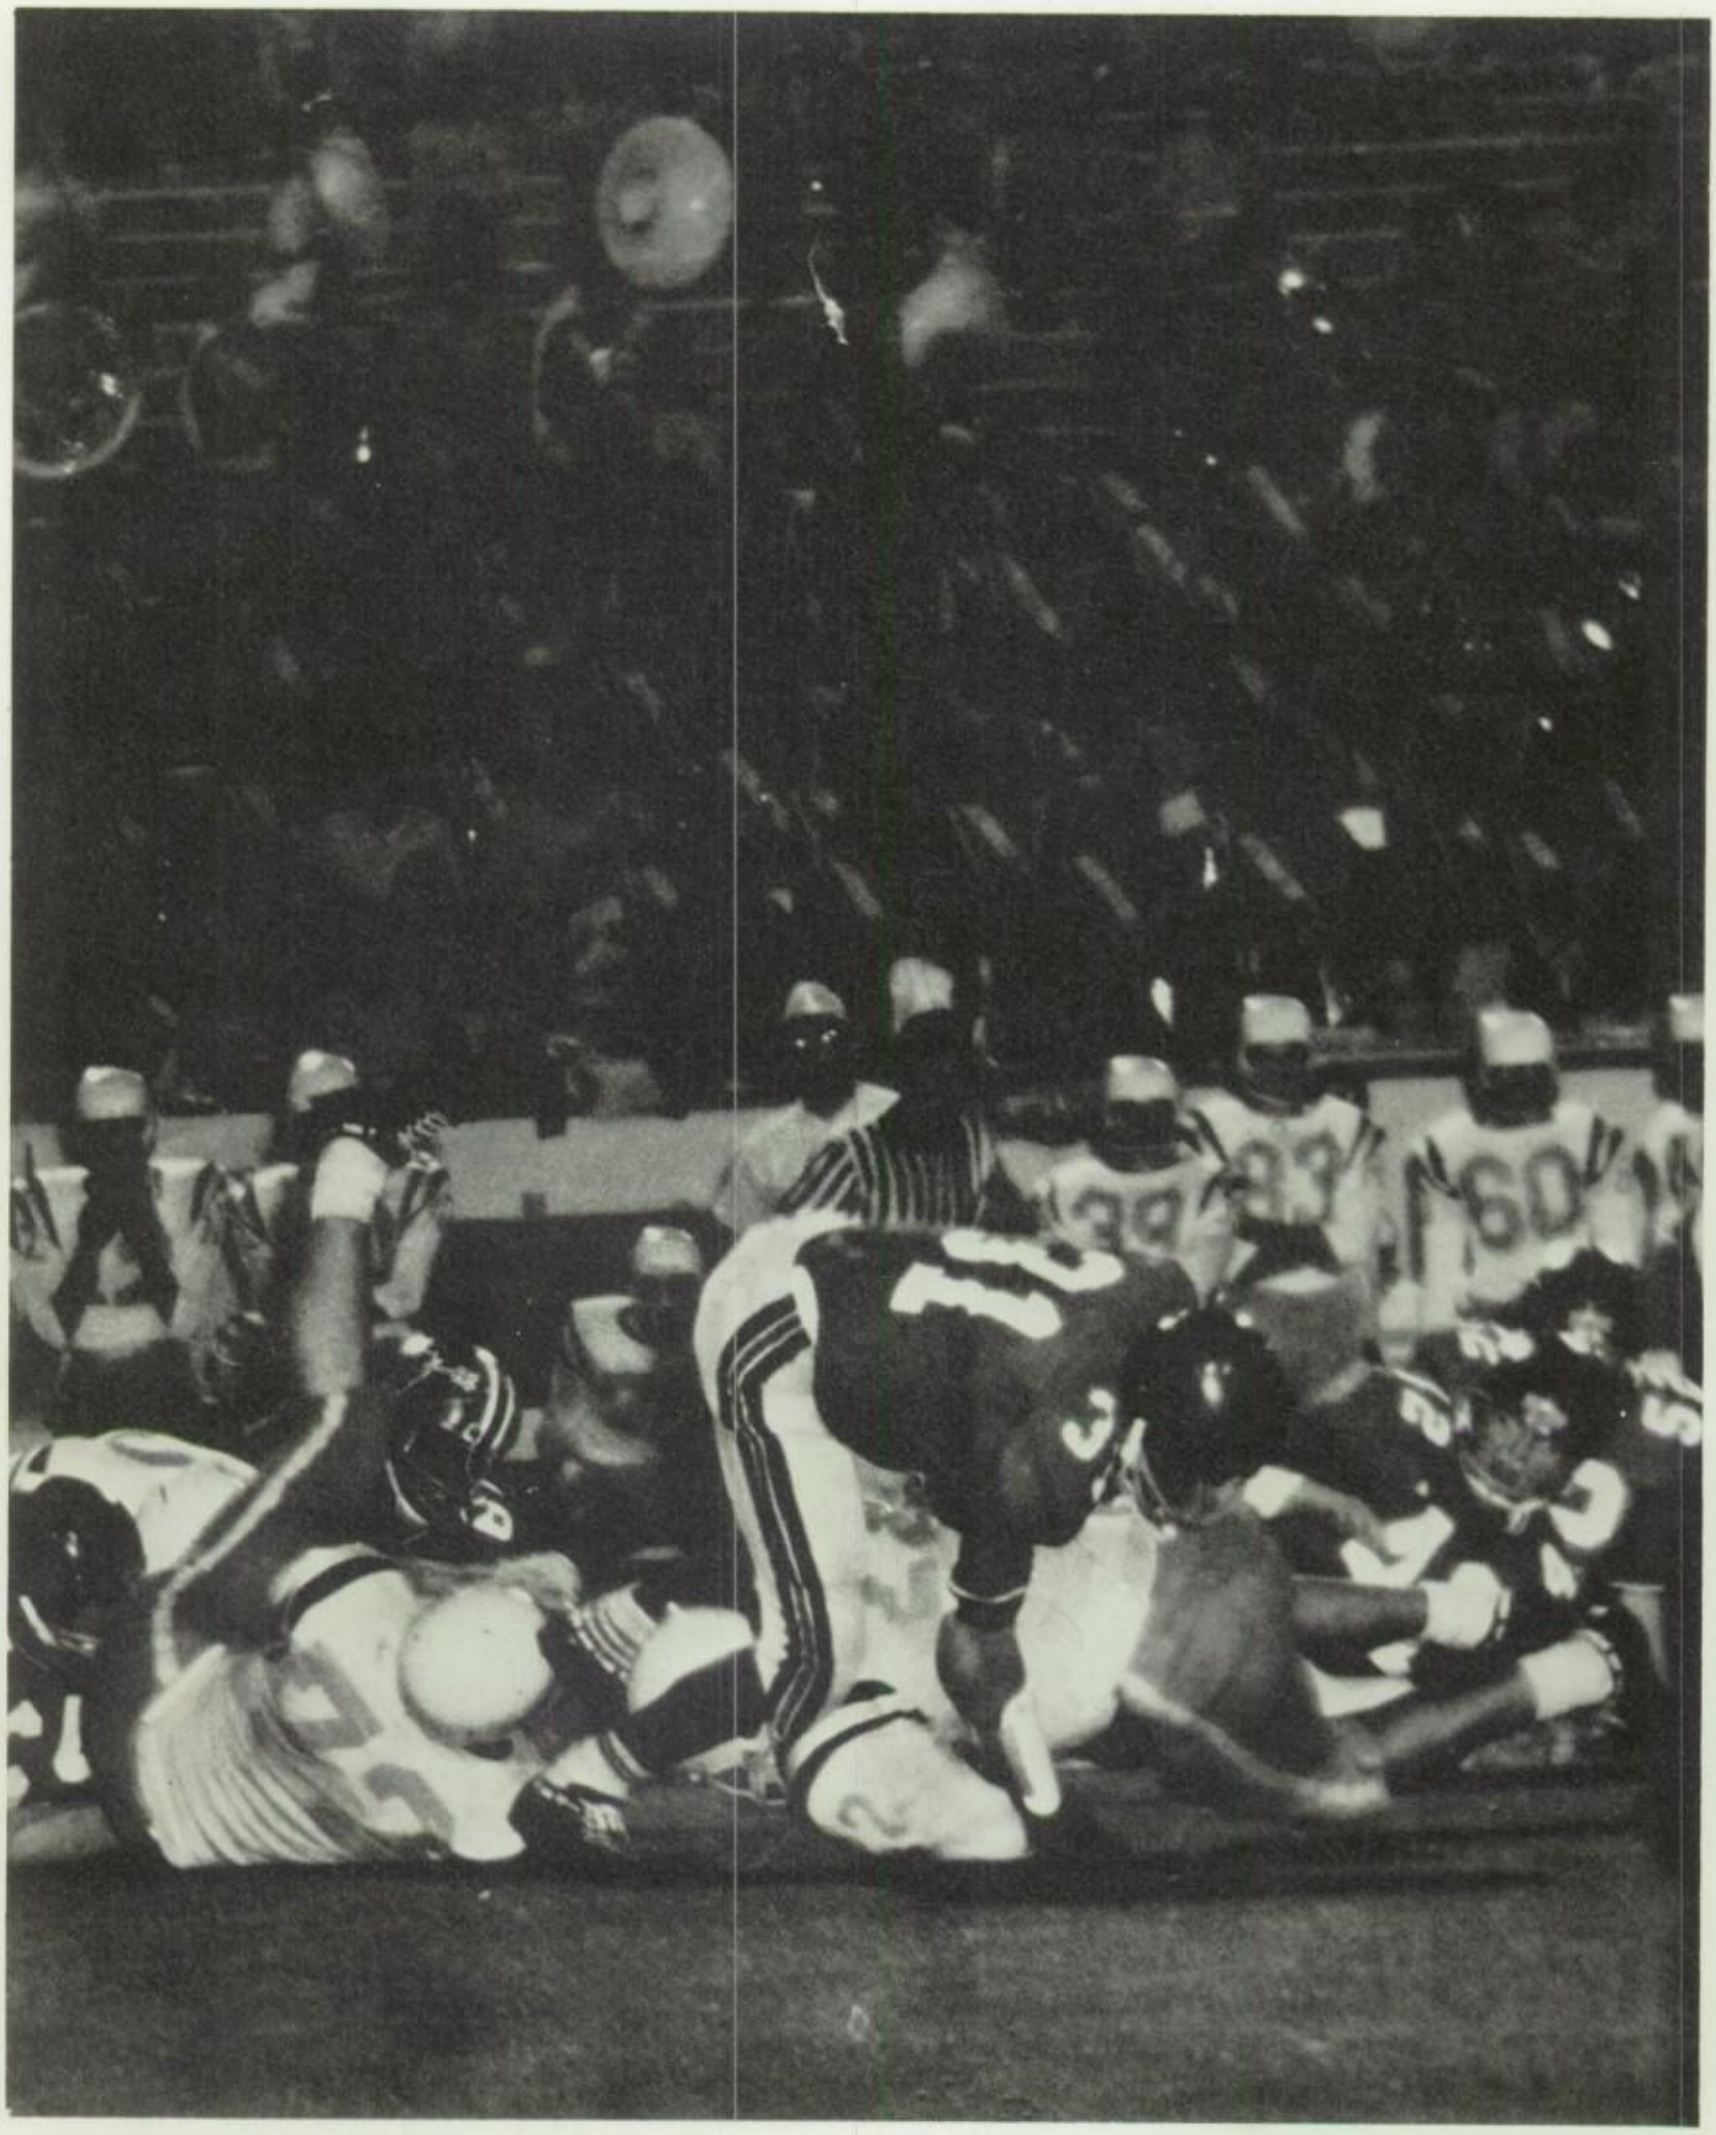
feild knocking my head off!
Tony Parker

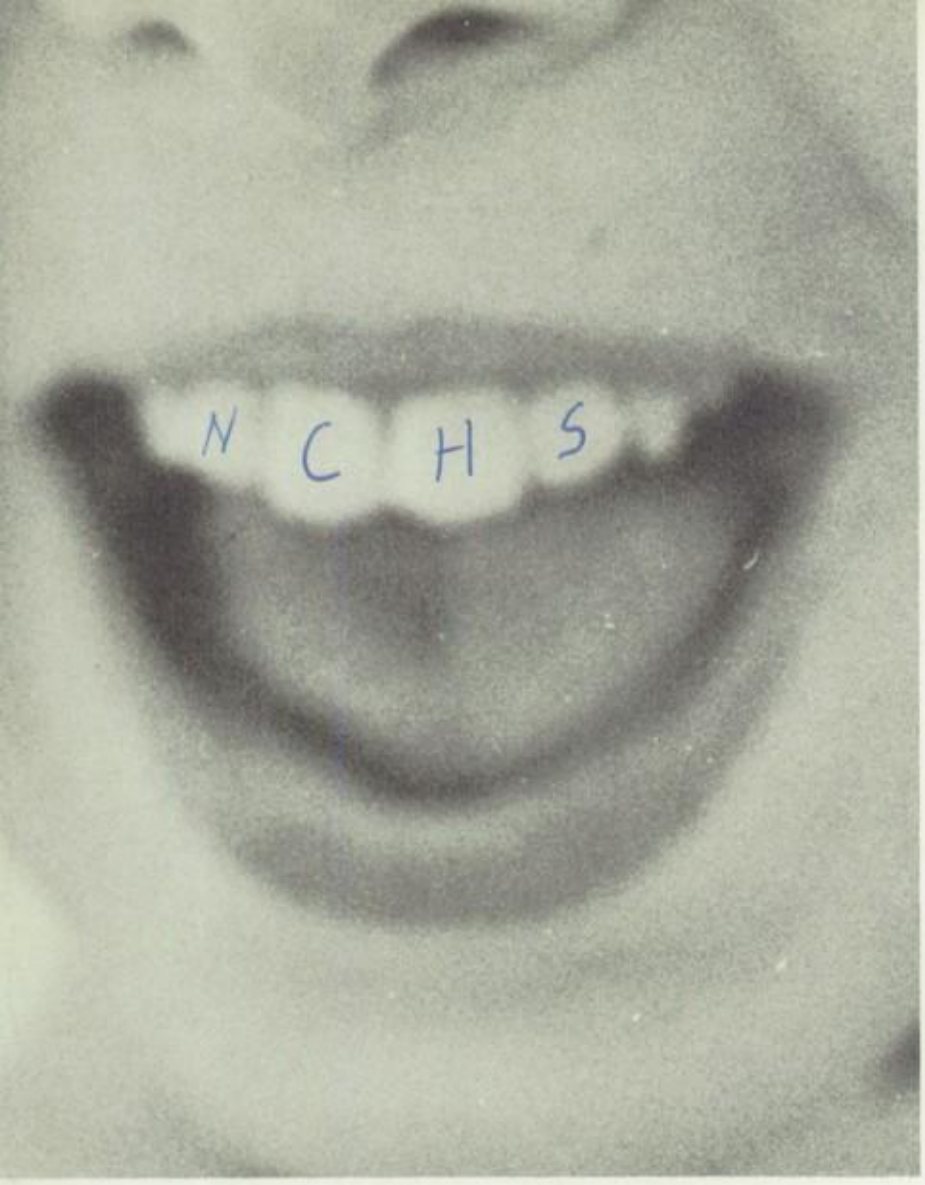


Each school day held a newness.

From that first unlocked door.

Until the grounds filled with emptiness.





With spirit rising, football season began.

New cheers learned at pep rallies were only the beginning.

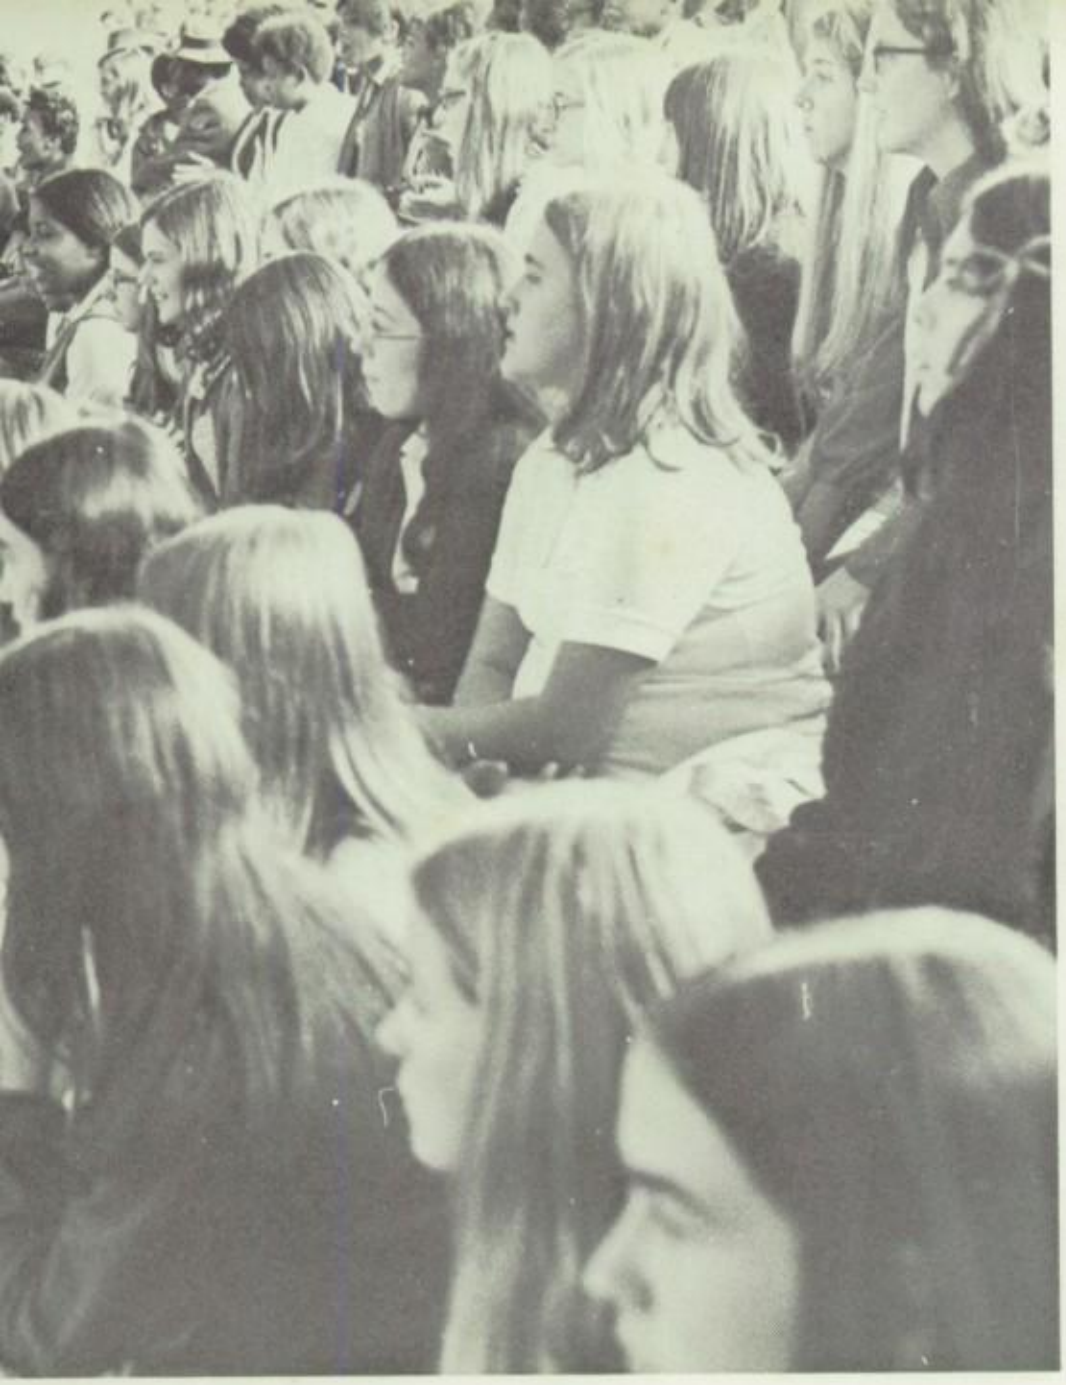
Each time the team was led onto the field,

a feeling of victory overwhelmed the spectators.

Sometimes the feeling burst out in an ear-piercing shout.

Sophomore Class Officers

Junior Class Officers



Election time.

With colorful campaigns
and vigorous speeches,

Class officers were classmates.

Senior Class Officers

Picture-taking.

Name giving, tie pinning, drape arranging.

What a work day!

Fittings for class rings brought out exuberance in juniors.

Sizes to try and colors to choose.

With new members accepted and initiations completed . . .

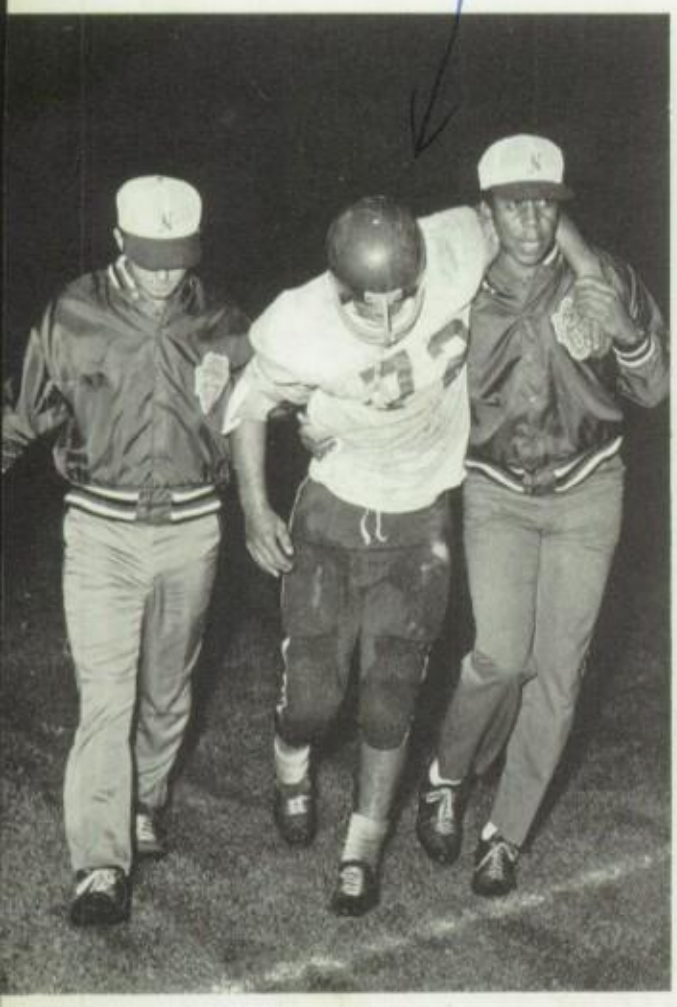
Clubs jammed their schedules with activities of various descriptions.

Bill Simon



Homecoming — an unforgettable night.

Sponsors and escorts.

Excited candidates.

A new queen and a lovely float.

Another victorious game.

A gym packed with students and alumni roared with sounds of music and dancing.

SHIFT

Time continued.

So much to be learned.

Teachers, tests, and interesting classes.

A special day for seniors.

Twelve girls presented a comical skit.

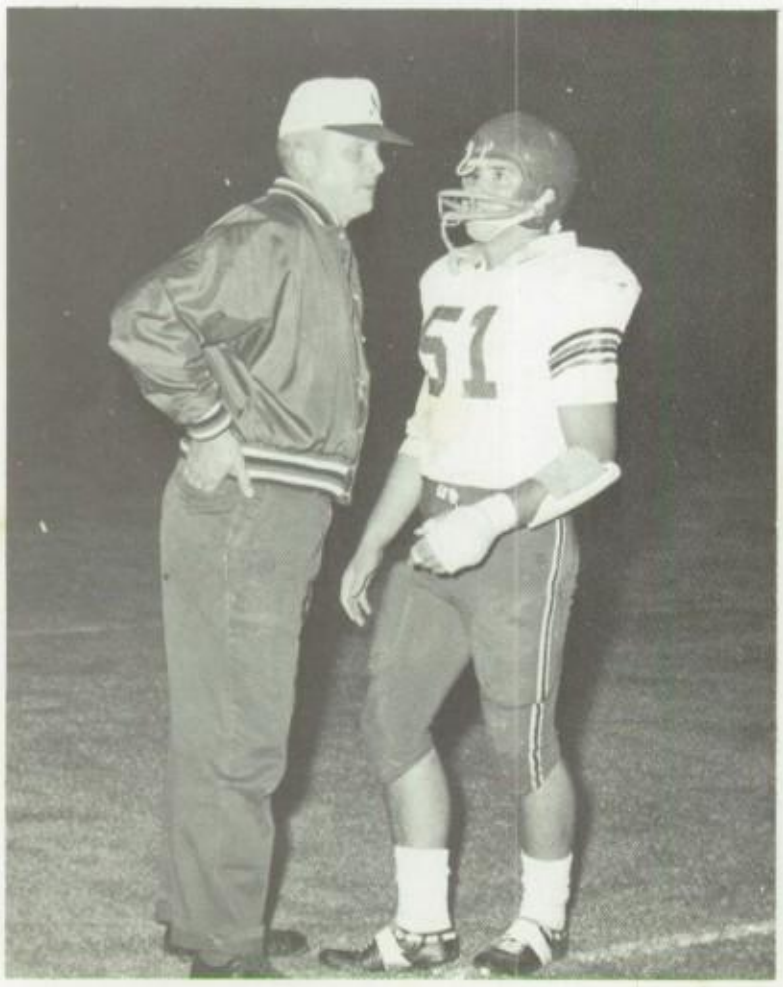
Nomination of fifteen girls followed.

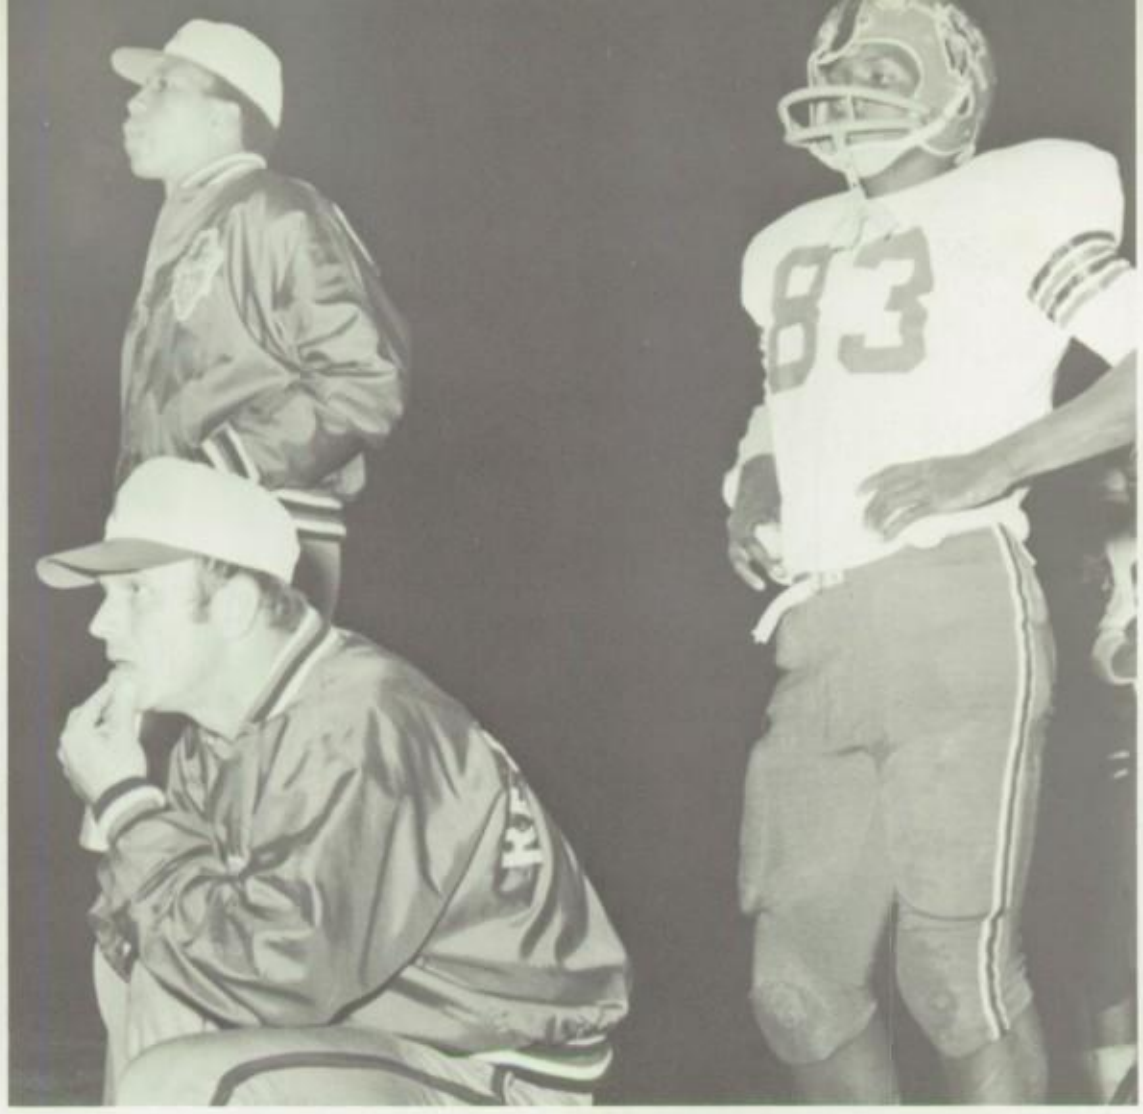
Voting . . . and a new Carrousel Princess.

A proud marching band performed on Thanksgiving Day.

Football season halted.

Honored by a banquet, the team had proved to be number one.

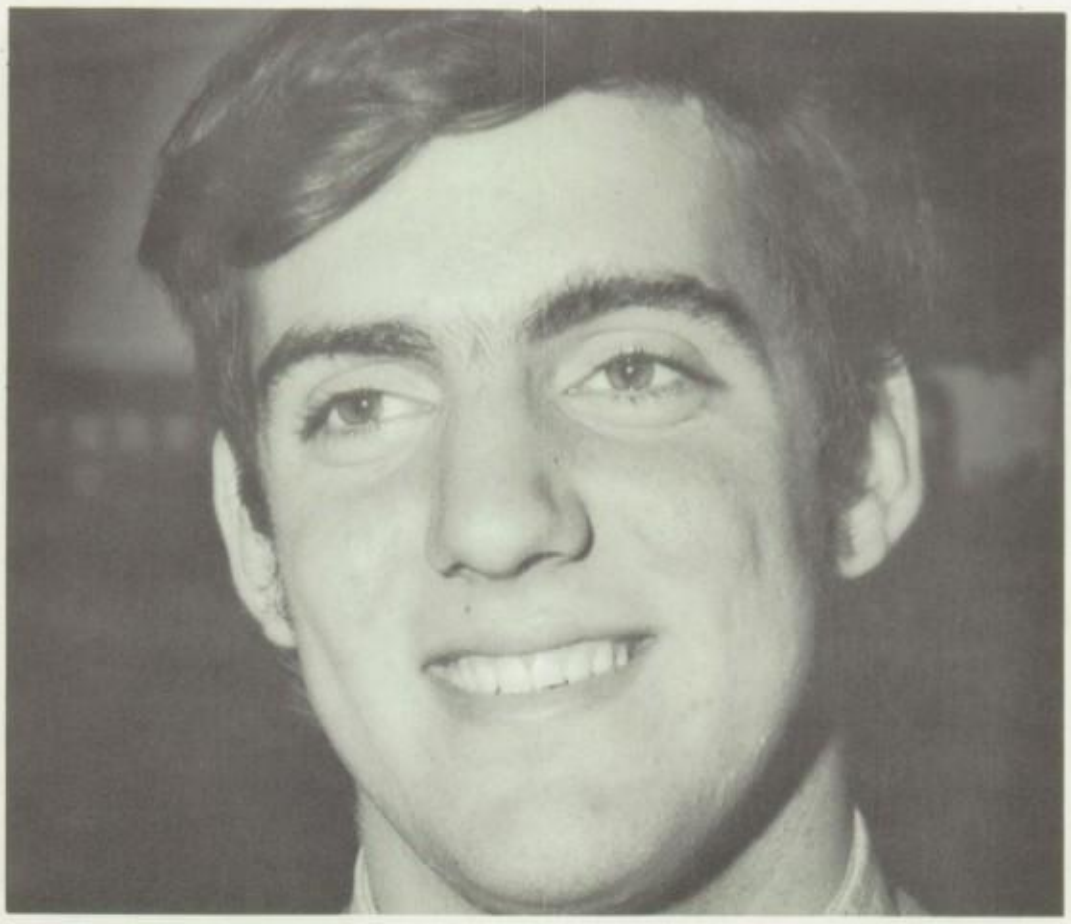




Also arriving with the new year was a foreign exchange student.

Friendly with an interesting accent, he was from France.

During the summer, one of our students had lived in Brazil.

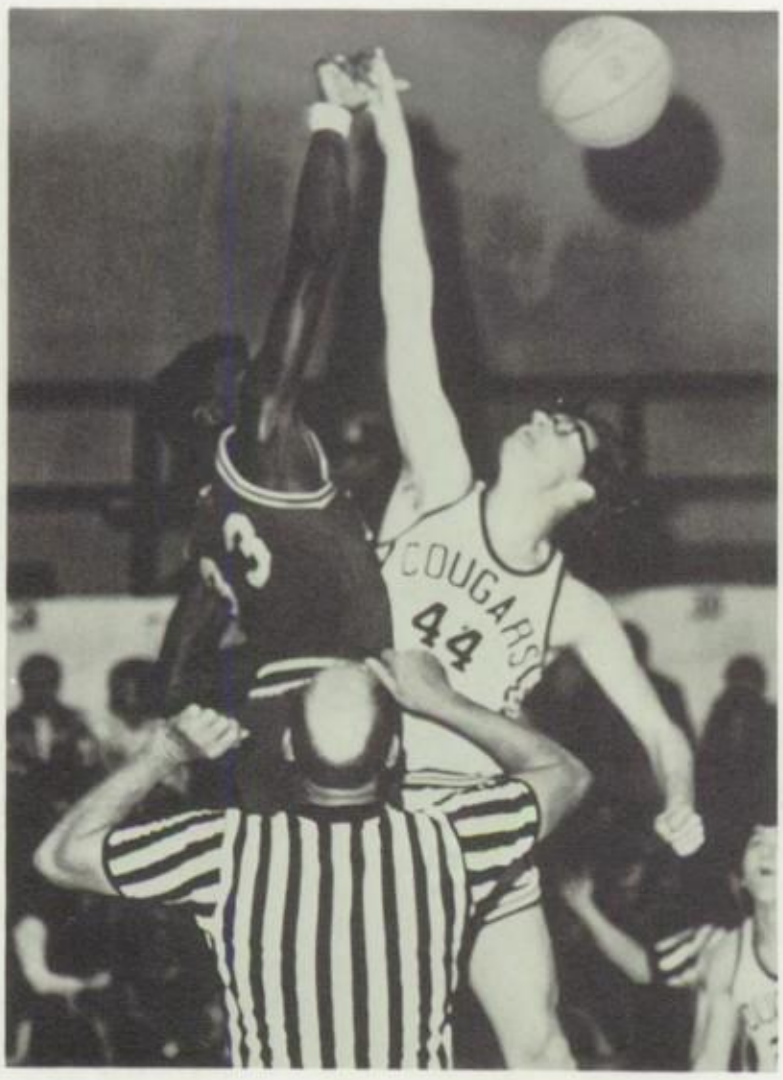


Basketball commenced.

More practice.

Agility drills and plays never to slip the mind.

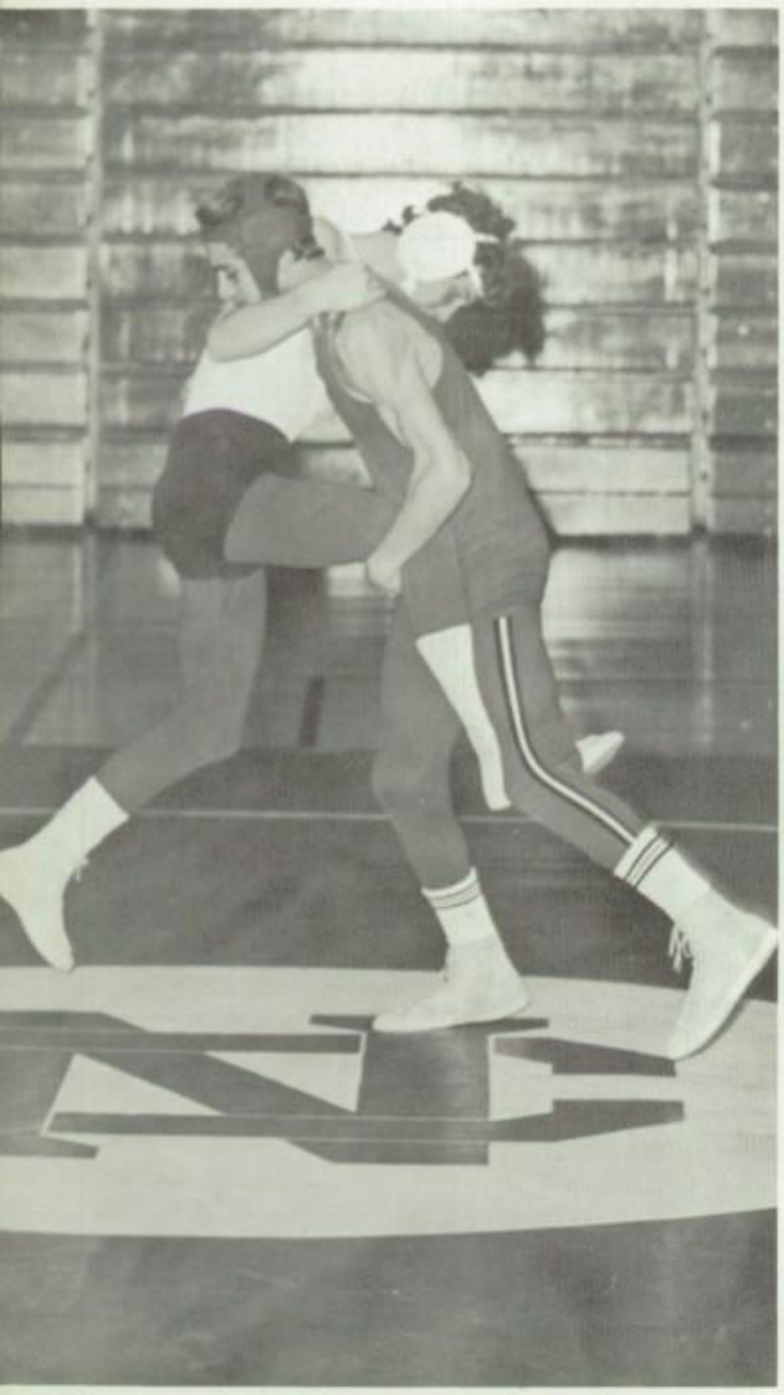
10

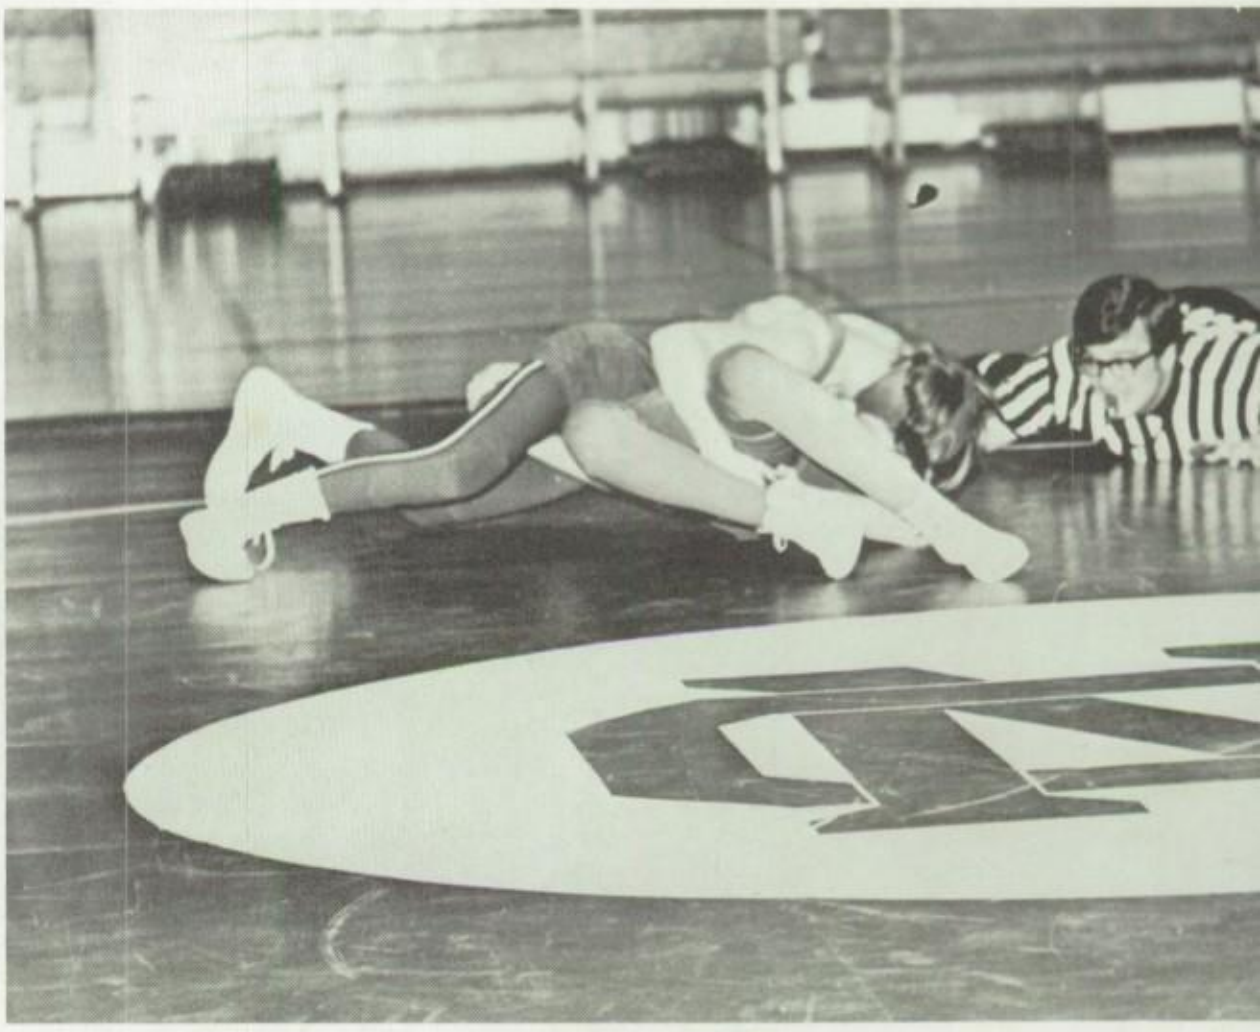


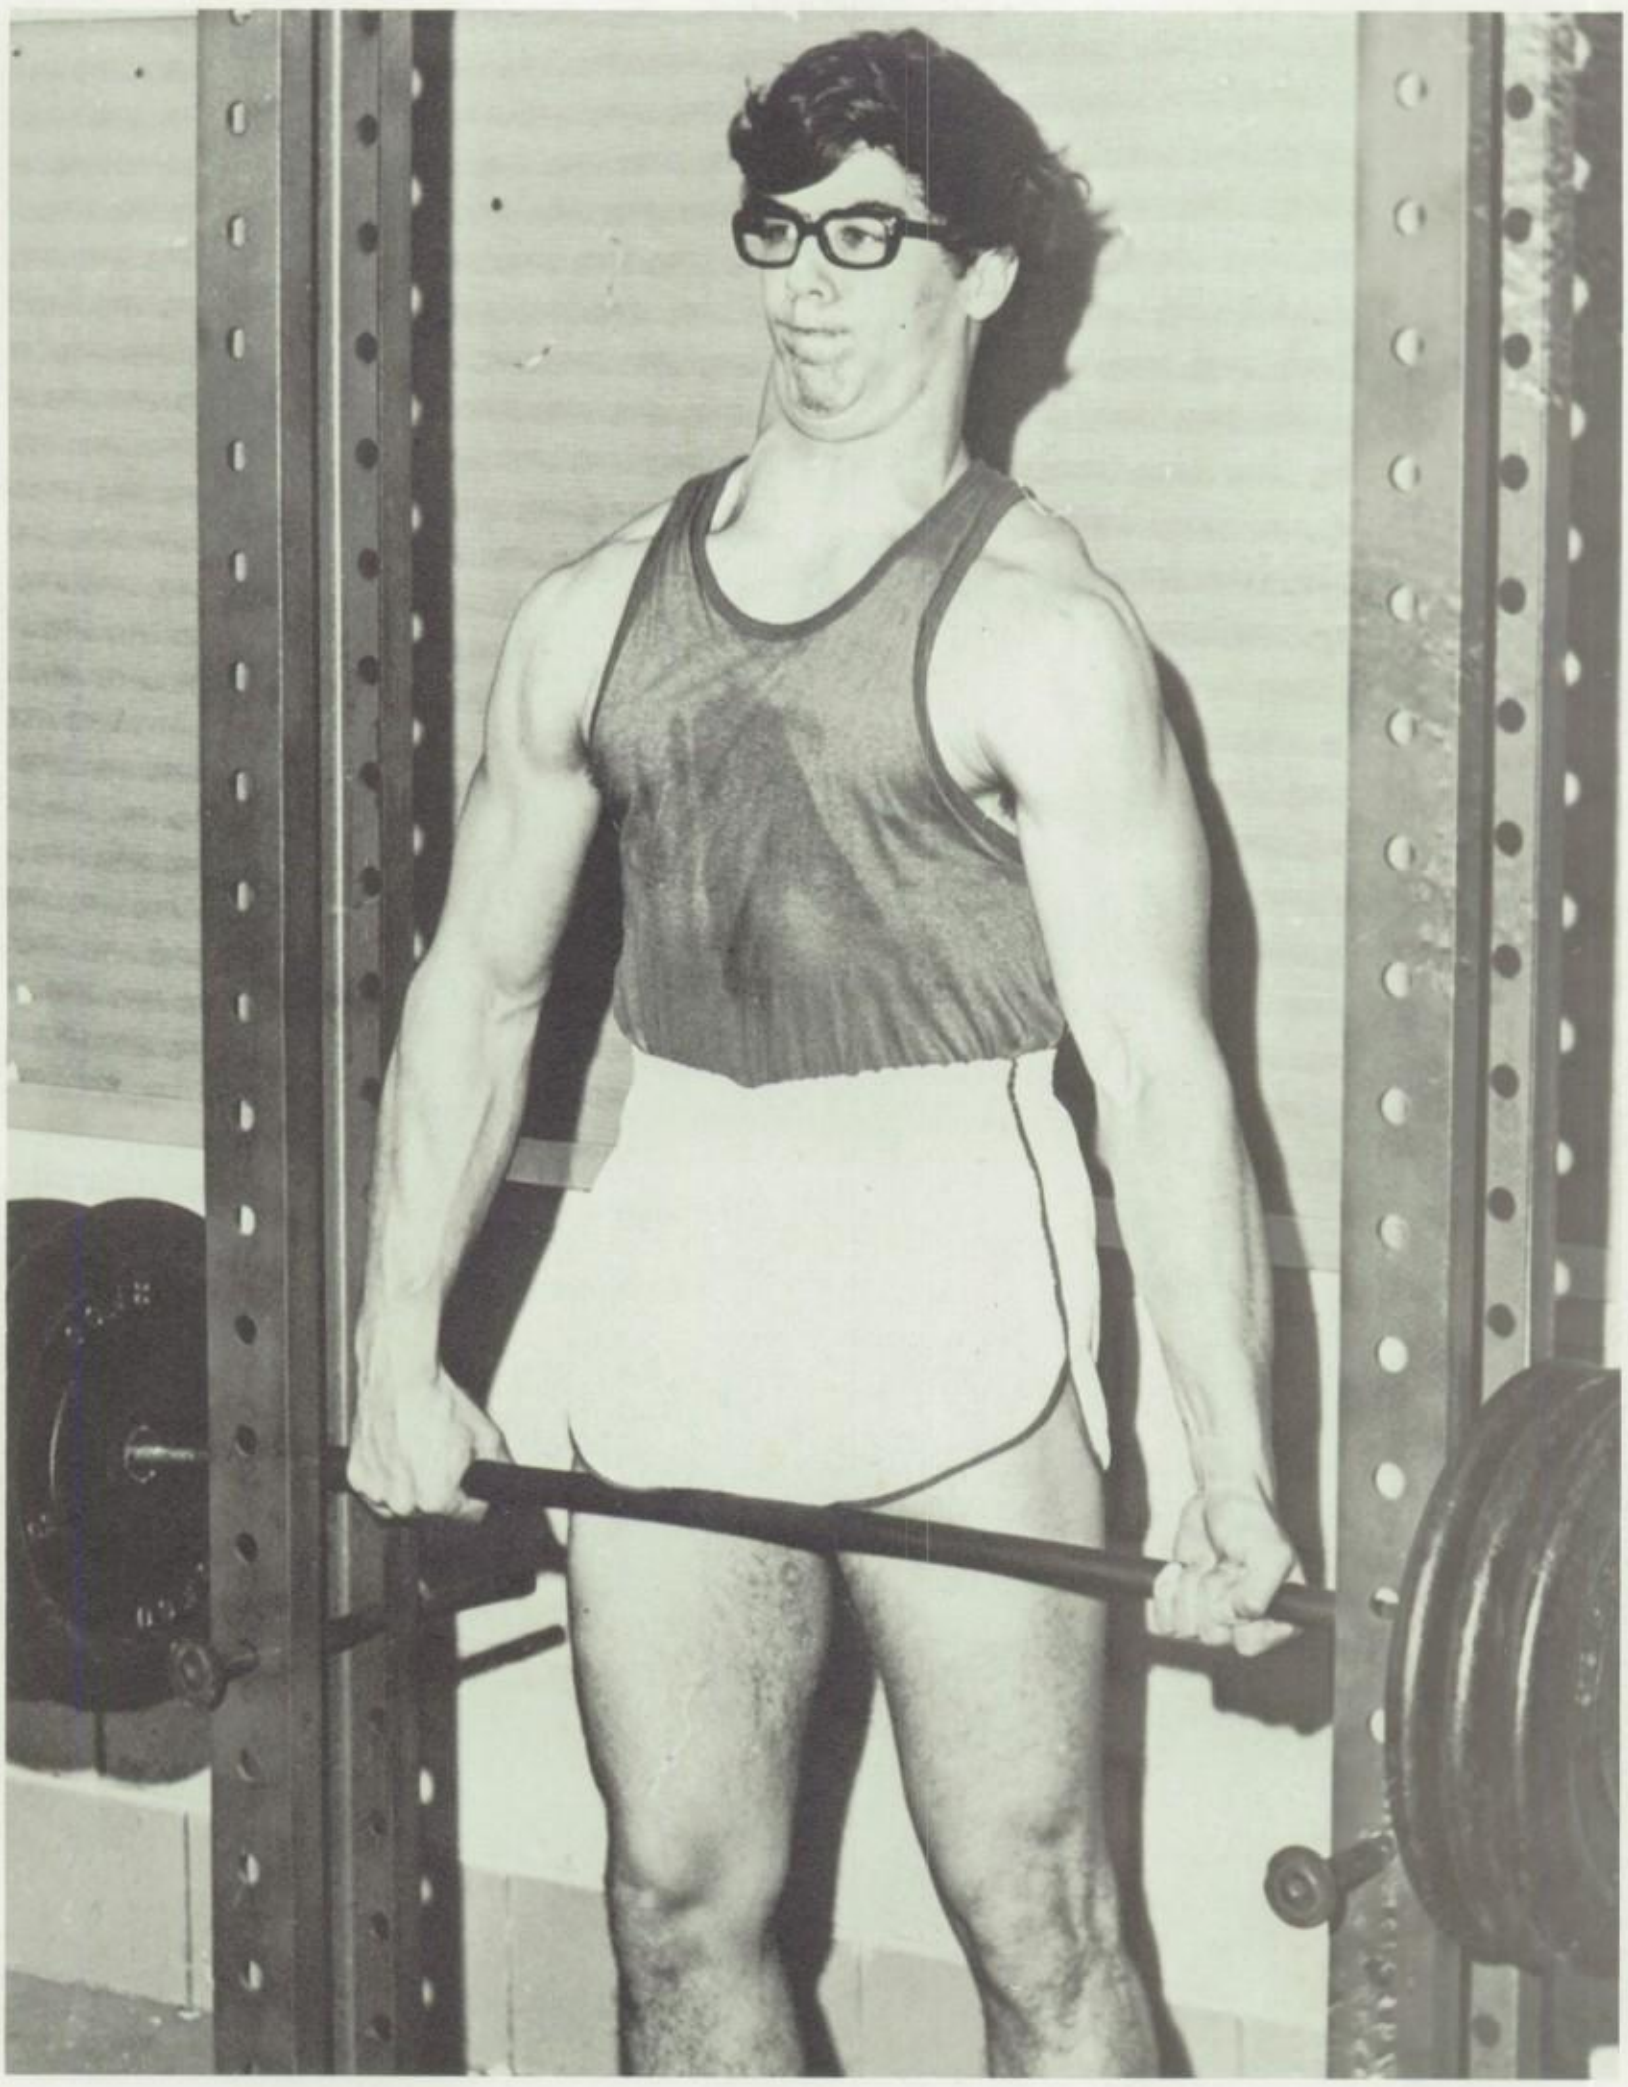
After school work, the games supplied vitality to the atmosphere.

Wrestling — young men with skill represented the school.

Building strength with weights showed activity in athletics.







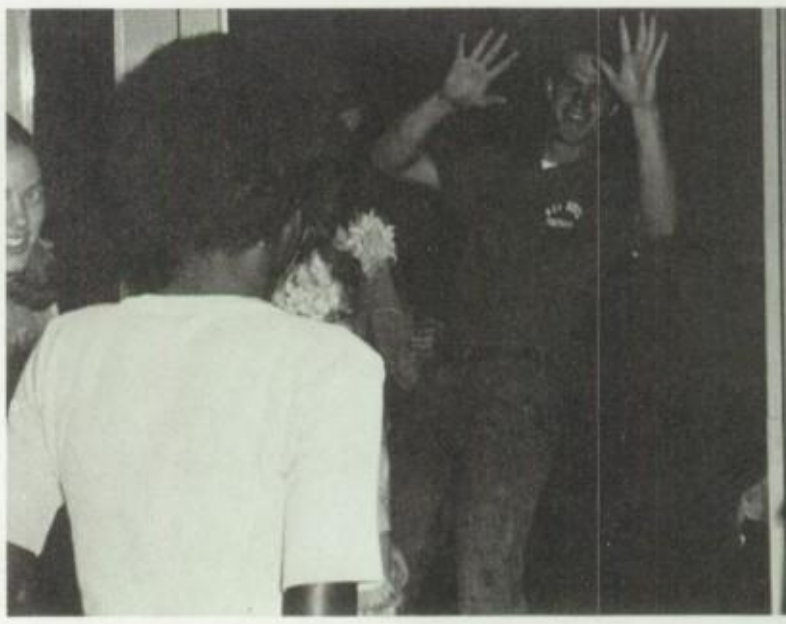
Cold and brisk, the weather chilled bodies but not spirit.

Christmas was at hand.

Happiness bubbled.

Projects were completed and concerts presented.

The Holidays leaped at us.



APS

After mid-term exams and much work, spring had sneaked around the corner.

Track and baseball took their places as spring's opening sports.

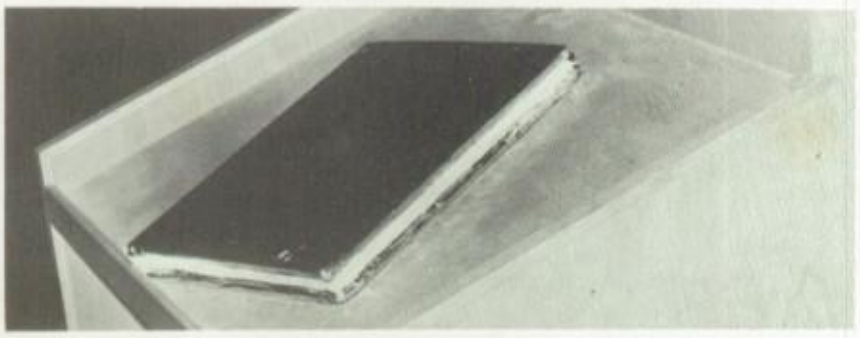
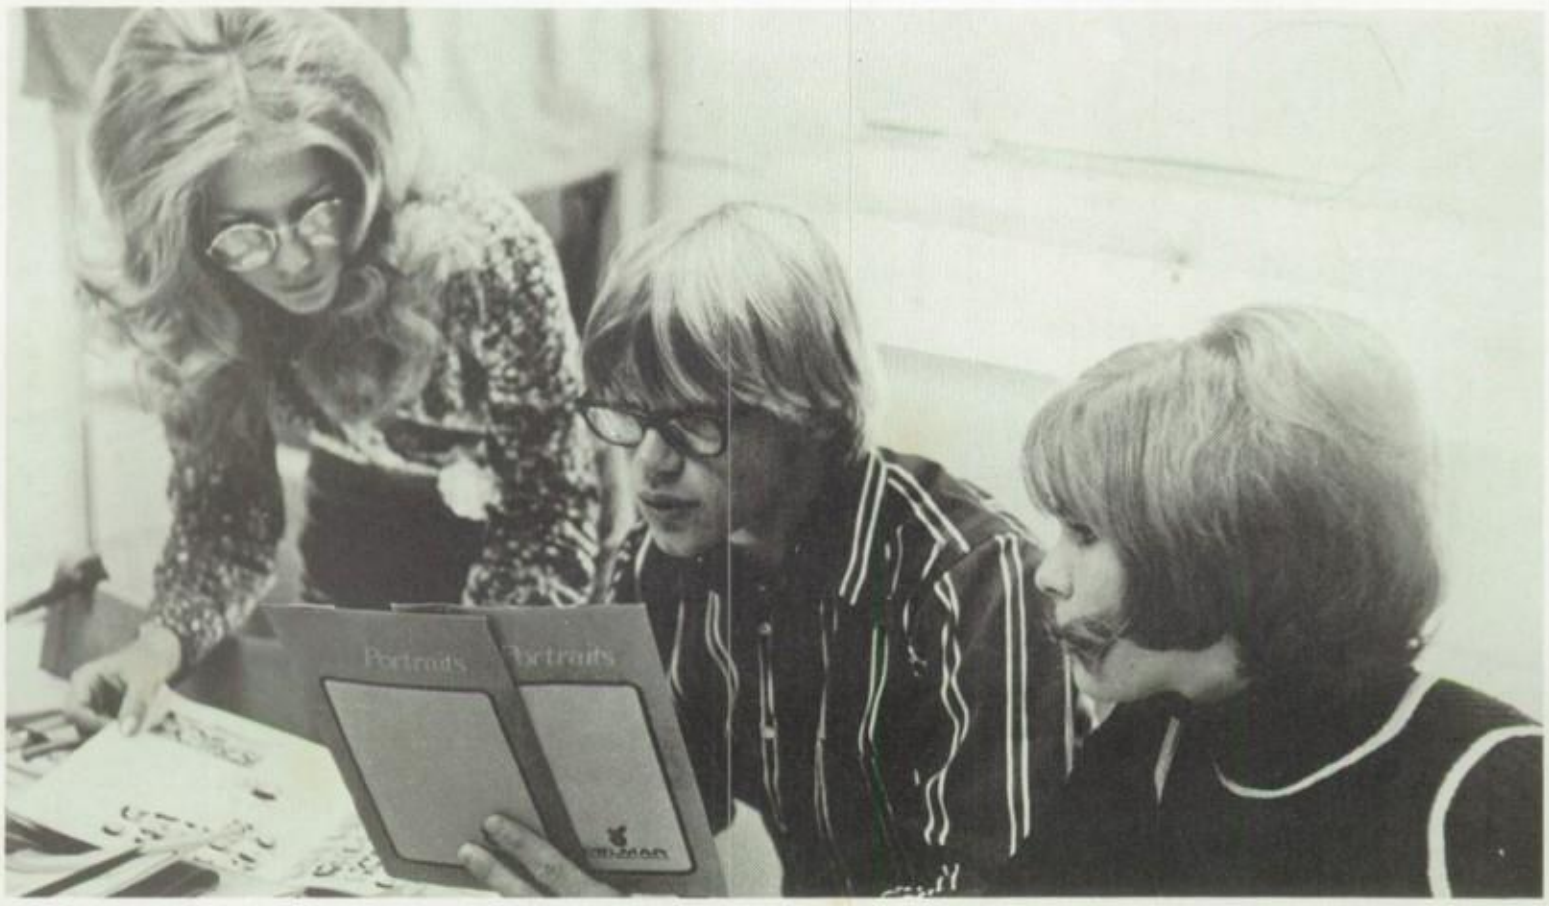
Band members worked diligently to produce the Variety Show.

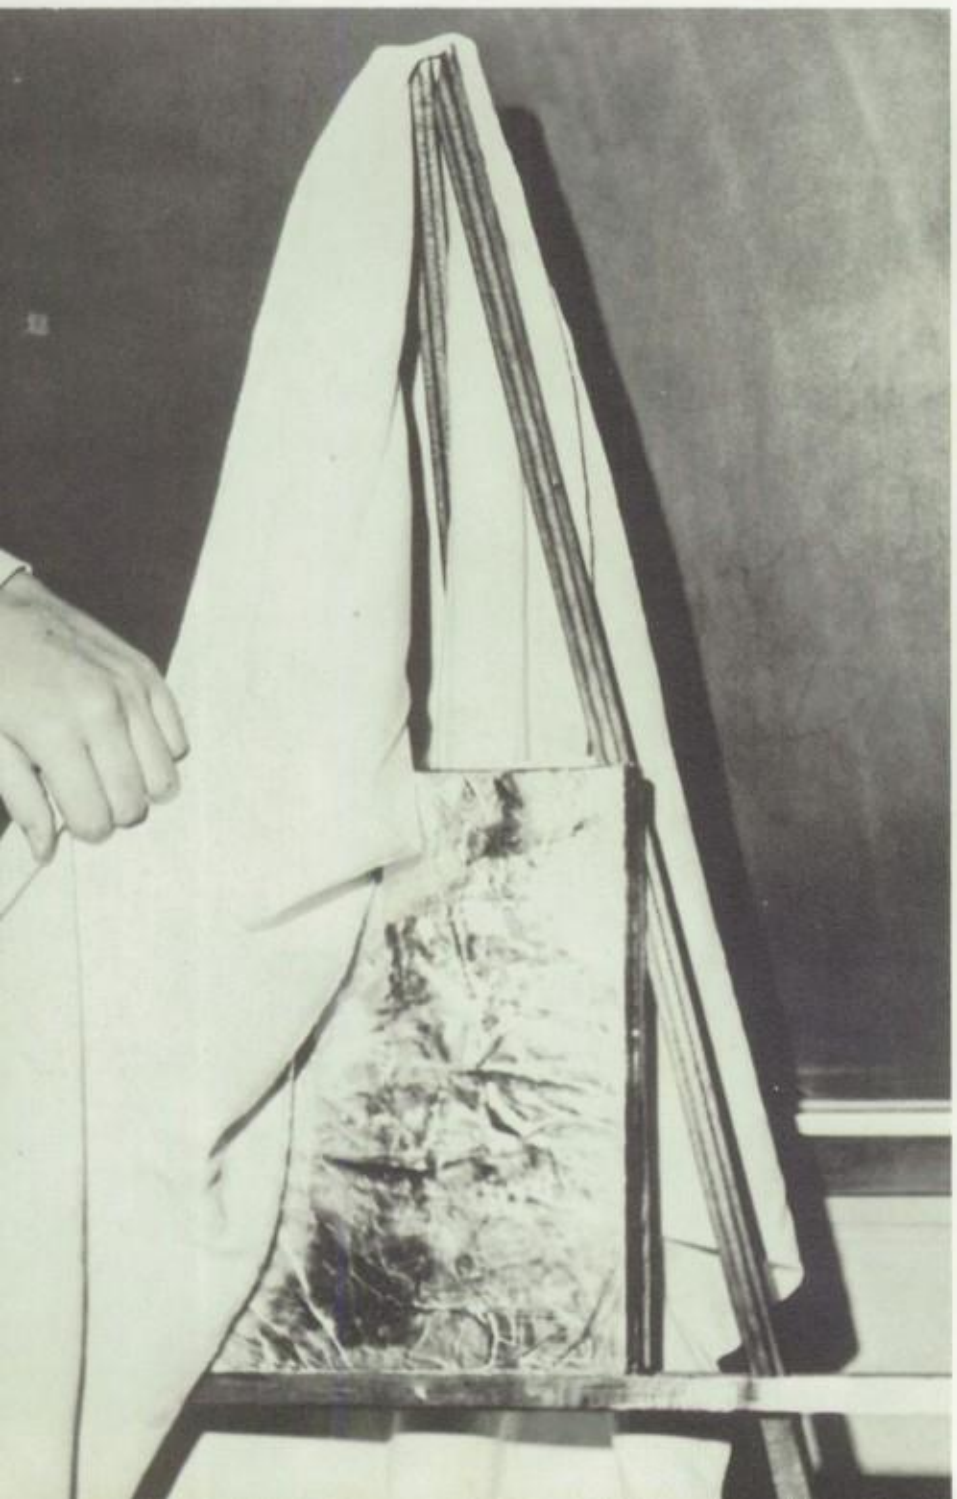
A year of careful planning and tedious work proved to be worthwhile as the long awaited yearbooks returned.

Signing parties were scheduled for almost every night.

Modeling a sportswear outfit, an evening gown, and a bright smile, a new Miss N.C.H.S. was chosen.

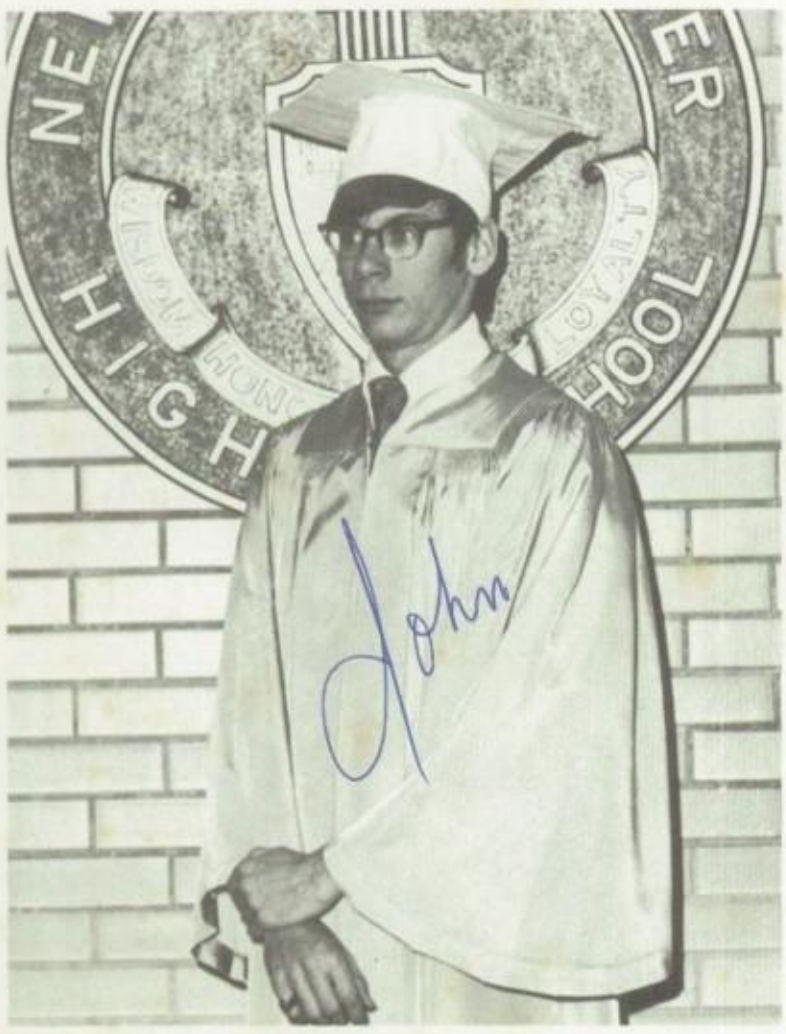






Sophomores enjoyed their first formal school dance, highlighted with the crowning of a queen.

The juniors displayed their time, work, and talents in presenting the Junior-Senior Dance.



Final days came.

Happy days but sad ones for several reasons.

Seniors had been out a week earlier than the other students.

And now the others opened their lives to another summer.

The year's peak was finally reached.

Dressed in caps and gowns, young men and women sat and listened during commencement exercises.

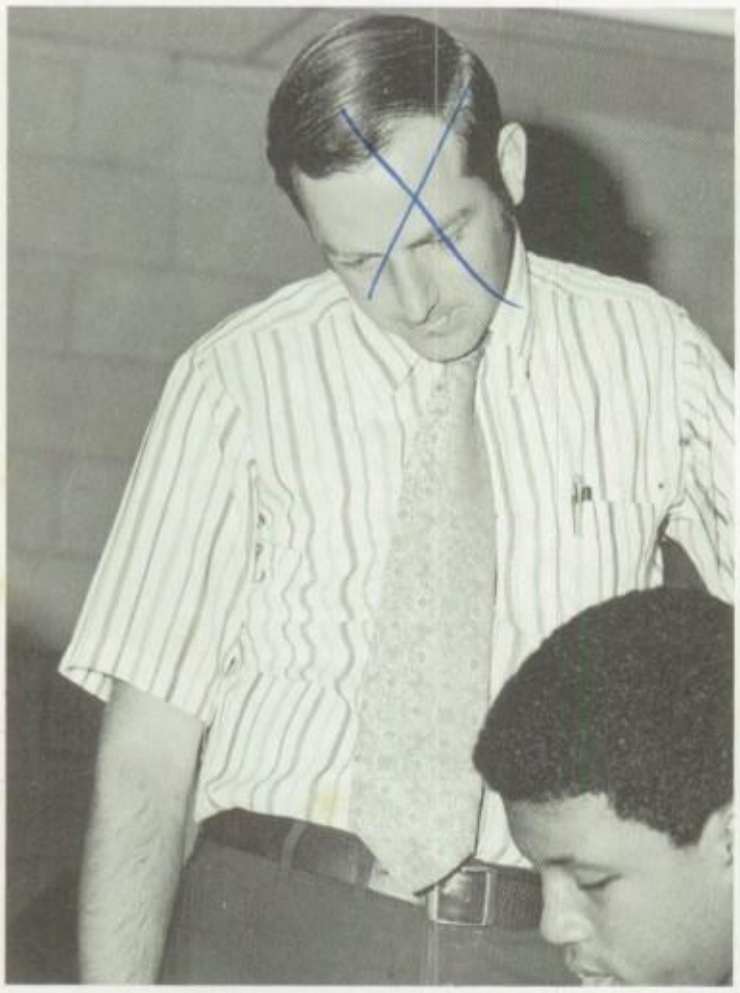
Graduation.

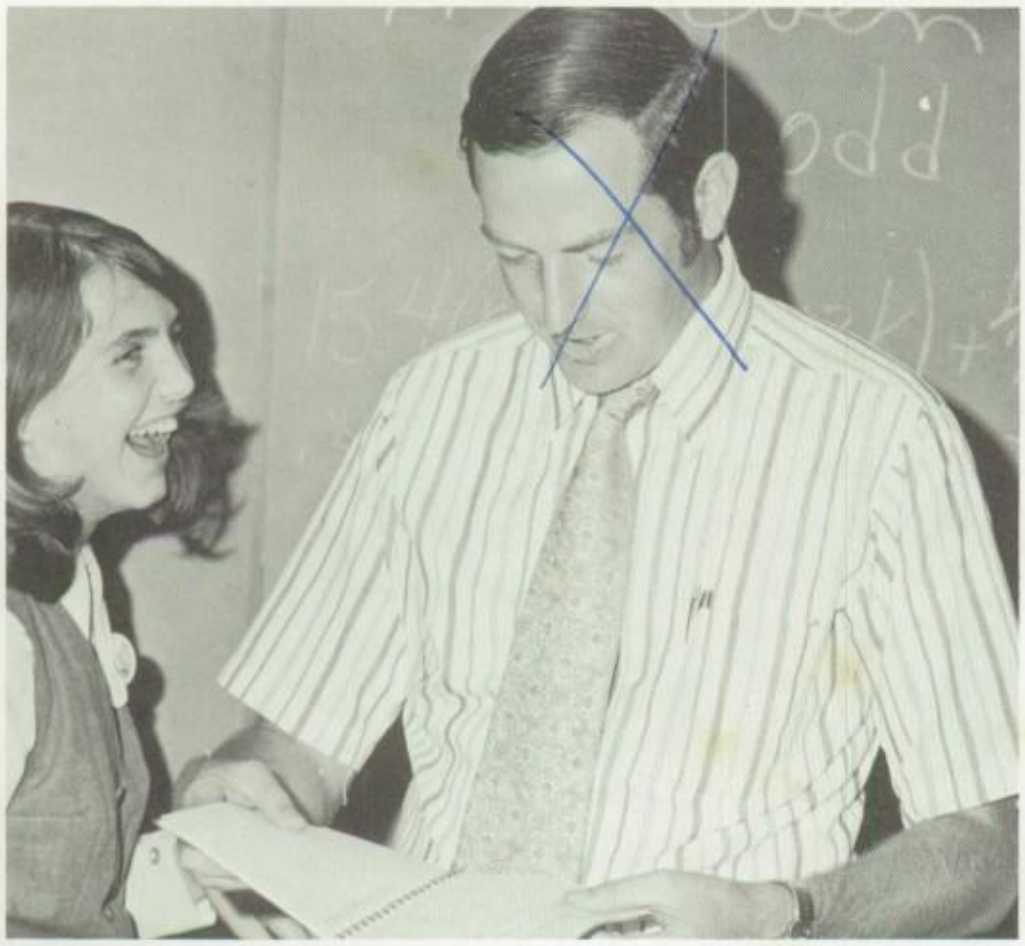
For some it was to be everything in life, but for others only the beginning.

PART 2

HONORARIES

With the new year coming and going, students and faculty received honors to cherish.





DEDICATION

Each year, we, the Cardinal Staff, are challenged with the task of selecting a teacher for dedication of the Cardinal. Although many teachers are worthy, there is usually one whose qualities are outstanding. This year's choice was extremely difficult, but there was one particular teacher to whom we were drawn. A teacher who is everpatient in the class, a worker in the community; a teacher who strives for excellence in whatever he undertakes. For these reasons, we the Cardinal Staff of 1971-1972 dedicate the annual to Mr. Everette Simmons.

GOVERNMENT IS EXPLORED

Girls' State

Sarah Odom and Nancy Gabriel represented NCHS at the annual convention of Girls' State. The convention is used as a means of teaching government to those in attendance. The girls participate in mock elections, political parties and towns.

The American Legion Auxiliary sponsors this annual event.

Boys' State

Government is the theme explored by delegates to Boys' State. This year our school was well represented by Terry Searcy, Randy Isenhower, Mike Wilson and Johnny Holland.

Boys' State is sponsored by the American Legion and is held annually at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem. Besides studying government, the delegates also participate in extra-curricular activities.

Honor Students Widened Special Talents

Cindy Moose and Margie McCorkle represented Newton-Conover High School for the Ninth Annual Governor's School at Salem College in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Cindy studied in the areas of math, philosophy, and psychology. Margie studied mainly in the region of Twentieth Century poetry which involved concrete poetry, Black literature, and modern prose. Both of the girls were required to attend the choral and orchestral concerts each Saturday night. Many recreational activities were provided for them, such as sports, square-dances, movies, and popular rock groups at Greensboro Coliseum.

Scholars Chosen As Junior Marshals

At the beginning of the second semester, the 1972 Junior Marshals, the juniors with the highest academic averages, were announced. These students participated in the Awards Day Assembly, the baccalaureate service, and the graduation exercises by serving as ushers. Junior Marshals selected were Vivian Hurley, Katherine Grimes, Kathy Darr, Beth Coley, Jimmy Wiggs, Bill Powell, and Willie Moser.

Students Awarded by Conference

In July of 1971, eight Cardinal staff members traveled to Boone for the Rhododendron Yearbook Conference at Appalachian State University. The students were informed of the proper techniques for layouts and were shown the elements that compose a memorable annual. Each group of students turned in a brochure to be graded. The Newton-Conover delegation won a prize of $50.00 for their work.

Musician Awarded

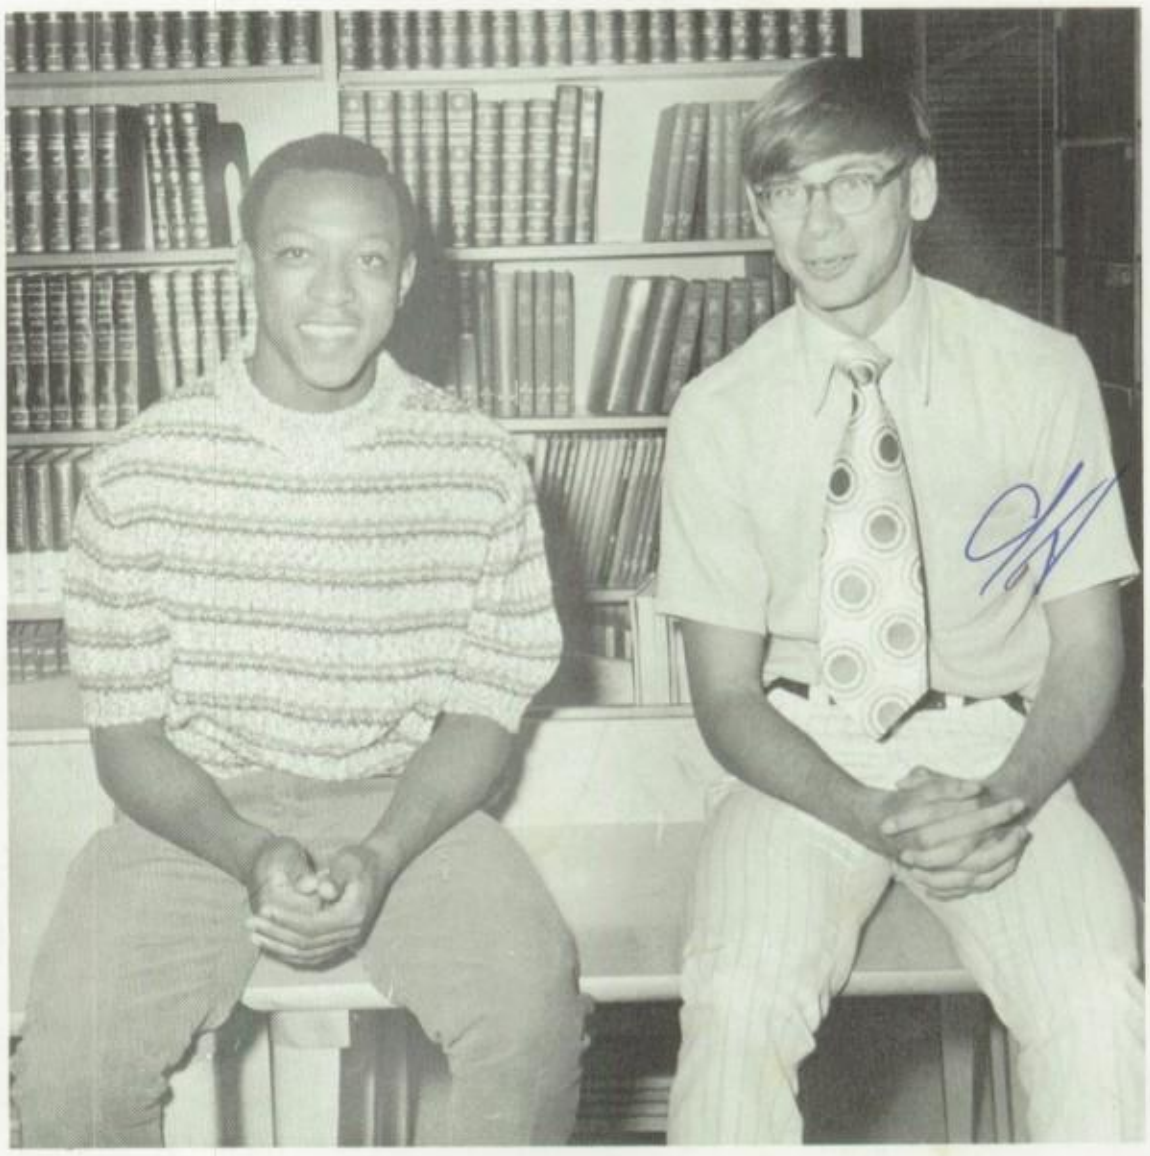
Bruce Mack was selected as the Outstanding Bandsman of 1970-1971. He greatly influenced and contributed to the NCHS Band by playing the baritone and alto saxophone. Holding a strong interest in music, Bruce certainly was worthy of the award.

Cheerleaders Ranked Number Two

Four of the NCHS cheerleaders — Jackie Jones, Jerry Jones, Jan Hewitt, and Jan Williams, went to East Carolina University last summer for a week-long cheerleading camp sponsored by the International Cheerleading Foundation. While there, they learned the responsibilities of a well-balanced squad: cheer innovation, fund-raising ideas, and crowd sociology. Out of approximately one hundred girls, the NCHS cheerleaders placed number two in the final ratings.

Two Leaders Attend Camp

The previous summer held many rewarding experiences for Robert McCorkle and Johnny Holland at Rotary Leadership Camp in Brevard, N.C. Both were chosen to represent our Rotary district because of their outstanding qualities of leadership and service to the community. The week-long camp brought students with common interests together and laid the foundations for potential leaders of tomorrow.



Four Nominees Selected from NCHS

The John Motley Morehead scholarship is given each year to deserving young men of North Carolina. It provides for a fully paid four year term at UNC-CH. Before each semester the student's performances must be accounted for in order to maintain their scholarship. The nominees from NCHS were Alex Reinhardt, Tim Parker, Randy Isenhower, and Johnny Holland.

Outstanding Players Awarded

The Team Before Self Award was presented to Bill Sigmon this year. This honor is given to the player who unselfishly contributes the most to team accomplishments. The Most Valuable Player award went to two outstanding men — Marcus Trivette and Greg Corpening. It was such a difficult decision as to which was the more valuable player that they both received the award. The Golden Helmet Award, presented to a deserving senior, went to Clint Tate.

All-Conference defensive players were: Marcus Trivette, George Reid, Terry Johnson, and Tim Parker. All-Conference offensive players were: Robert Mebane, Marcus Trivette, and Greg Corpening. Outstanding Defensive Lineman, was George Reid, and Outstanding Offensive Lineman was Bill Sigmon. Outstanding Defensive Back and Outstanding Offensive Back were Marcus Trivette and Greg Corpening, respectively.

SYSTEM LED BY ADMINISTRATORS

Affairs at NCHS would be in constant turmoil if not for the administration. Mr. Cranford is certainly the key figure in our school's operation. He makes sure NCHS is running smoothly. Co-ordination between administration and faculty is achieved through Mrs. Bock, the supervisor. Mr. Carter more directly gives leadership to NCHS with the assistance of Mr. Ingle. Mrs. Buchanan is a dire necessity to the operation of NCHS. She performs office work, makes announcements, and keeps track of club finances.

Learning would be impossible if it were not for English and by communicating through English, the impossible can be accomplished. From grammar to literature, our English department offers a wide variety of interests to our students.

D.E. and I.C.T. Programs

Prepared Students For the Future

Since the majority of students who graduate from NCHS are not college bound, the school offers 2 programs in on-the-job training.

Industrial Co-operative Training deals with production of goods. Students in this program work in plants and mills.

Students working directly with the public, such as office workers or store clerks, are involved with Distributive Education.

Marketing, another course offered at NCHS, deals generally with all marketing and distribution related jobs.

Students Mastered Necessary Basics

Classes for Special Abilities endeavor to provide an education for each student according to his capability. The areas emphasized are basic academics and occupational education.

Home Economics strives to instruct students in areas relating to the household. Both boys and girls are enrolled in the course. They study basics in cooking, sewing, and housekeeping.

Students who plan to go from high school directly into a vocation are given an opportunity to perfect their trade through the Vocational Education offered at NCHS. In construction industry, students are allowed to build various projects. Drafting skills are perfected in mechanical drawing. Mr. Miller guides students towards being expert bricklayers.

Business Courses Led Clerical Students

NCHS was able to expand its business program this year by beginning COO (Cooperative Office Occupation). This program is designed for students wishing to enter the business field. In this program, the students take English and office courses in the morning and work in offices after lunch. Other students at NCHS have an opportunity to take Typing I and II, Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Office Practice, and a combination course known as Typing/Notehand.

Physical Education Developed Skills And Abilities

Under the supervision of Mrs. McCorkle and Mr. Tommy Simmons, students at NCHS are able to cultivate the health of their bodies, as well as the ableness of their minds. By exercising and playing games, students get an opportunity to develop skills and promote good health.

Sciences Explored

Science is definitely an exploratory study, whether it be biology, physics, or chemistry. Through the skilled guidance of our instructors at NCHS, our students greatly profit from any of the science courses offered.

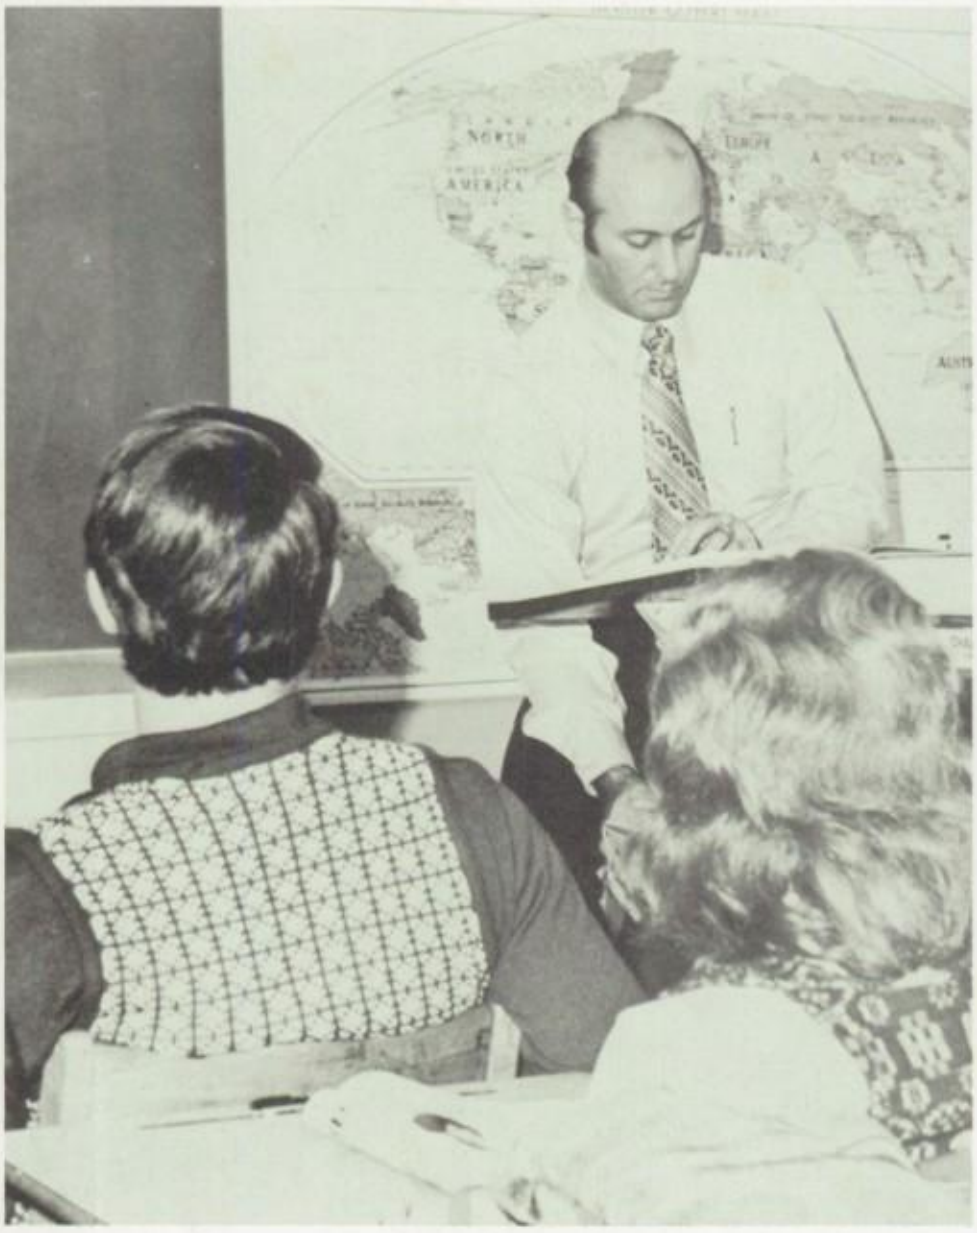
History Courses Were Expanded

Students at NCHS have a variety of social studies courses to choose from. From history — both world and U.S. — to social studies, to sociology, students have a chance to develop their understanding of people in general. NCHS was fortunate to be able to offer a new course this year — sociology. Through this new course, under the supervision of Mrs. Cline and Mr. Hoke, students are able to delve more deeply into sociological aspects of life.



Students Exposed Their Creativity

Creativity is a vital part of human development. At NCHS, the Fine Arts department gives students a chance to express their creativity — whether it is expressed by voices, under the direction of Mrs. Brooks; instruments, under the direction of Mr. Stockner; art, under the direction of Miss Pate; or photography, under the direction of Mr. Charles Deal.

Foreign Culture — A Part of NCHS

Relating to others is one of the most important aspects of humanity. Understanding is best accomplished by verbal communication. The study of foreign languages can benefit the student in various ways. NCHS, through Mrs. De Torres and Mrs. Shaw, strives to provide the interested student with a firm background in Spanish and French. The languages are dealt with both culturally and linguistically.

Math Worked Out Problems

Mathematics has a tremendous influence on the technical world of today. To meet the fast growth of mechanization, NCHS offers consumer math, Algebras I and II, Geometry and Advanced Mathematics. In an effort to prepare its students, whether they be college-bound or plan a business career, NCHS strives to offer its students the background they need.

STUDENTS LEARNED THROUGH EXPERT GUIDANCE

Two of the most popular "hangouts" of students at NCHS are the library and the guidance office. Both places offer a stockpile of information for the student's convenience. Mrs. Simmon's guidance is most valuable, whether it be a personal problem, or one's choice of a college to attend. When one must do a research paper or find a particular book, Mrs. Huffman and her assistants are available for help. The daily routine at NCHS would certainly be lacking if not for these two places.

Have you ever stopped and thought just exactly what it is that creates a winner? From the teamwork that was so readily displayed by the Big Red gridders, it can be easily said that the Devils deserve to be called winners.

From the opening kick-off to the final gun can be forty of the longest minutes in a football player's life when struggling for victory. Fortunately the Red Devils did not spend very many uncertain minutes but still provided the people of the Newton-Conover area with some of the most exciting football they have witnessed in a number of years. All the pride and prestige that is associated with a winner seemed to spill over and affect the entire area. In essence, it seemed to unite the Newton-Conover area.

Despite early problems, Coach Tommy Simmons took a group of dedicated young men, not rated any higher than fourth in the conference, and made winners out of them. Not only did the Red Devils win the conference, but went on to represent the conference in the Western High School Activities Association semi-finalist play-offs.

All is quiet now. The excitement is gone and for the graduating senior team members only memories are left. Never again will they suit up in red and white to play and represent the best Newton-Conover has to offer. But what about next year? The winning tradition has been established and it is dependent on future Red Devil football teams to keep it alive.

The initial goal is always and will remain the same. The game is played to win and in order to earn the reputation of winners, victory is essential.

J. V. FOOTBALL

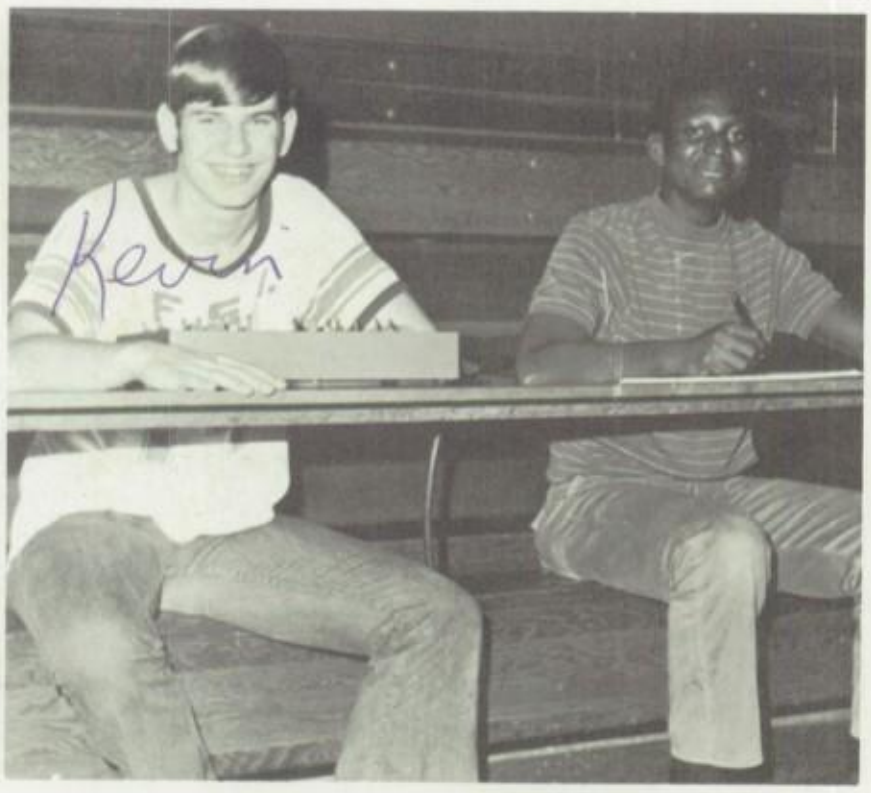
For the second year in a row the Junior Varsity football team captured the conference title. These young men exemplified the determination that made the Newton-Conover football program a winner.

TEAM FIRST ROW: Tony Parker, Terry Woods, Gary Kanipe, Roger England, Skip Arruza, Andy Gaither. SECOND ROW: Grover Coulter, Tim Seitz, Ray Smith, Tim Sigmon, Kim Lawing, Scott Prochaska, Keith Smyre

Coaches Rick Setzer and Donnie Wilson

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The J.V. players received their first taste of the rugged competition of 3-A Conference basketball in their first year at NCHS. They gained valuable experience throughout the season which will hopefully be used in the coming two years. The sophomore athletes worked diligently to prepare themselves for the change from junior varsity sports to varsity athletics at NCHS.



Managers Kevin Frye and Arthur Moss

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The NCHS Red Devil basketball team played exciting ballgames all season, but were not always successful in winning. Under the coaching of Bobby Rowe, the Red Devils kept the spectators sitting on the edge of their seats. Although they tried hard they had a difficult time coming up with a winning combination.

Coach Gary Jarrett

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The NCHS Red Devilettes, sporting brand new white uniforms, made a highly successful conversion to the new conference rule for five-man basketball. Through hard work and excellent coaching by Gary Jarrett the team held their position at the top of the Northwestern Conference Standings.

Managers Paula Wood and Sandra Foote

Sarah Odom

Vernice Coulter

Helen Lackey

Coach Tommy Simmons

WRESTLING

Perhaps the least understood varsity sport at NCHS is wrestling. But since its introduction a few years back, the sport is hurriedly coming around. The interest has risen from almost nothing to become a very important part of Newton-Conover High School.

Manager Daniel Noell

TRACK

For the first time in several years past, the cindermen of NCHS brought home the conference crown. The competition was tough, the going was difficult, and a few points the other way could have made the difference. If it were not for some truly outstanding individual efforts the track team would not have fared so well.

BASEBALL

The 1971 baseball team started the season with much enthusiasm under the instruction of Gary Jarrett. Much effort was put forth and hopes were kept high, although the season was not one of the best. Rating as high as skill is good sportsmanship and a good sport can loose as easily as he can win.

Coaches Gary Jarrett and Frank Ridley

Coach Nathaniel Noell

GOLF

Another new sport introduced into the extracurricular activities at NCHS is golf. Even though our golf team has not won a championship it's the spirit of competition that counts so highly for the golfers at Newton-Conover High School.

The Varsity Club

The Varsity Club is composed of students who have excelled in the field of athletics or cheerleading. The club operated the concession stand at basketball games to raise money for letters, bars, stars, and jackets for athletes.

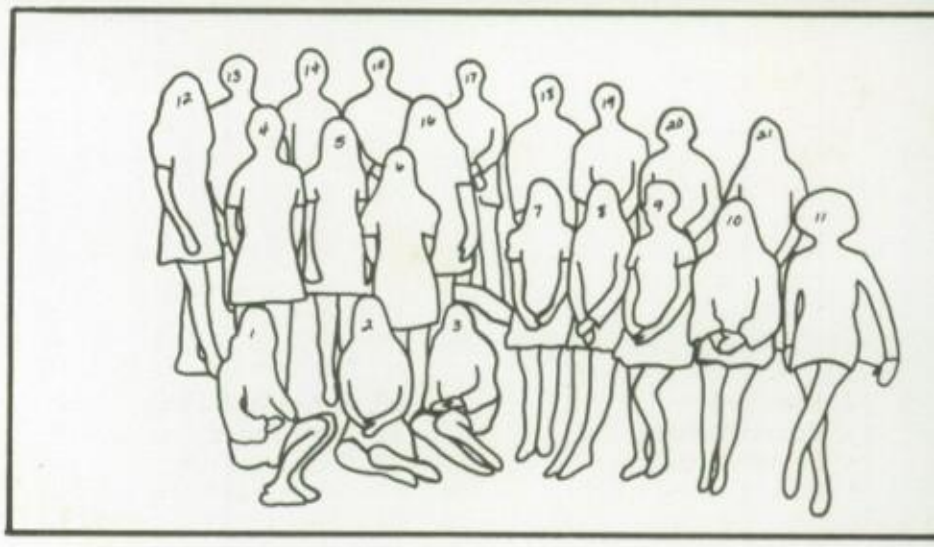
The Interclub Council

Headed by the Vice-President of the Student Council, the Inter-Club Council worked at co-ordinating the activities of various clubs. During football season they aroused school spirit by assigning each club to create a spirit poster.



The Student Council

Assemblies at N.C.H.S. were made possible by the Student Council. The Council strengthened student participation by organizing a Homecoming spirit train, electing a student body Santa Claus, and having Open House for the parents. The use of precinct representatives was a new idea which worked out well.

Quill and Scroll Society

The Quill and Scroll Society was active this year for the first time. Their main project was to publish a literary magazine. It contained many of the students' better themes, essays, poems, and songs.

The Junior Civitan

Junior Civitan members continued again this year to sell cushions at football games, present the Miss N.C.H.S. Pageant, and sponsor MOD Day. Their service projects were supplying clothes to the Clothes Closet, sponsoring a child from W.C.C. and having a Christmas party for special education classes.

The addition of the Music Club at N.C.H.S. has provided an opportunity for students to perform in the fields of their various music interests. Members have also been so fortunate as to observe professional performers.

The Co-operative Office Occupations Club

N.C.H.S. profitted greatly from a new and efficient club made up of students interested in office occupations. The C.O.O. Club mimeographed school projects and held a bosses' and supervisors' banquet. With much co-operation members made the C.O.O. Lab as near an office situation as possible, going so far as having work cards and coffee breaks.

The Interact Club

The Interact Club created an awareness of the importance of the home and family by having a food for the needy campaign at Christmas, and by mowing the lawn of the Day Care Center. The club also conducted international projects with other districts.

The Chemistry Club

A better understanding of chemistry was promoted by the Chemistry Club through lectures from people of the field of chemistry. At meetings, they performed experiments, and visited various plants throughout the community.

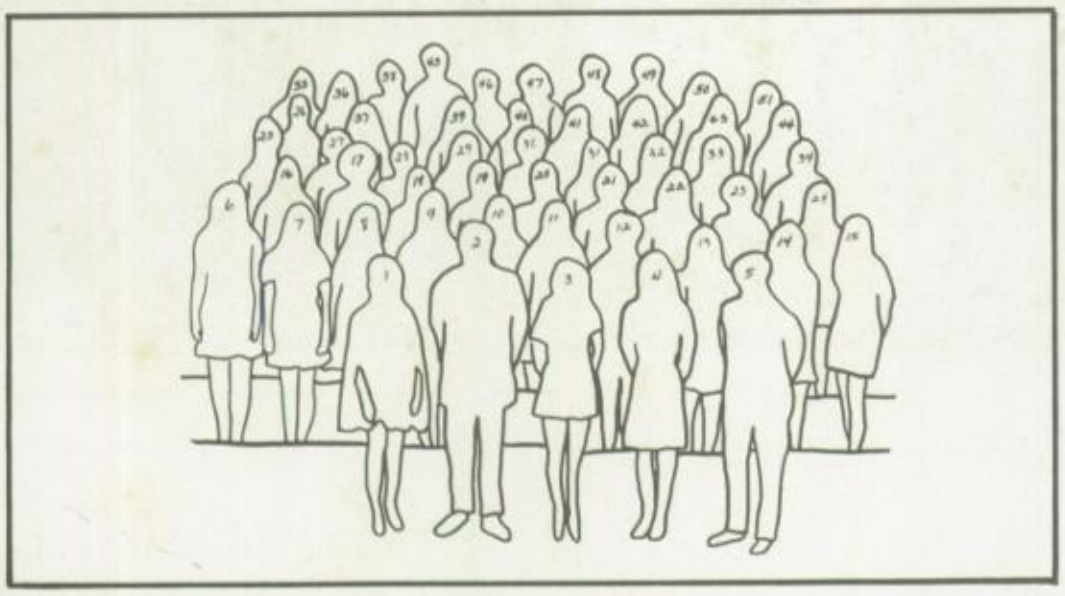
The Math Club

A newly organized club at N.C.H.S. is the Math Club. Its purpose has been to promote interests and activities in Math within our school. It has also provided an opportunity for students to observe mathematics in use.



The Future Business Leaders of America

The Future Business Leaders of America has worked hard at the development of competent, aggressive business leaders. This new and effective club has strengthened the confidence of young men and women in themselves and encouraged them to establish themselves in business.

In Memoriam

One smile, one frown, one helpful hand — all gone, each irreplaceable. All that remains are memories, memories held by her close friends and her mere acquaintances. We, the Cardinal staff, dedicate this memoriam to Deborah Denise Daniel (1954-1971).

Being selected to bring you an annual was quite an honor and privilege, and I only regret that each student at NCHS could not have a part of the experience. The Staff and I do hope that we have given you a record of your moments as an NCHS student that you can look back on and cherish.

This book, we hope, will carry as much special value to you as you look back to the good and the bad of your years at NCHS as it has to us, the Cardinal Staff.

We would like to thank the following people: Photographers John David Corne, Ted Wellborn, Robert Mebane, and Mr. Abernethy; Leon Lewis, who solved many problems; Delmar; Mrs. Rudisill and Mrs. Buchanan, for making our many announcements; the faculty for allowing us to disrupt their classes; Susan Keenan, who designed the cover; and most of all, Mrs. Cline, for being ever-present, ever-helpful, and ever-patient.
